AGENT MITCHELL SAYS ONLY VERY FEW OPERATIVES OUT ON STRIKE

Declares That Only 55 of the 2000 Working When Strike Was Declared Are With the Strikers—Strike Committee Chairman Sets Number of Massachusetts Mill Strikers at Between 500 and 600

"There are just 55 people out on strike at this mill. By that I mean there are that many of the 2000 that were working here at the time of the wage reduction." This is the statement given to The Sun this morning by Agent William A. Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills.

When asked if it were true that people had been turned away seeking jobs and had been turned away, Mr. Mitchell answered in the affirmative, and added that the reason the

WANTED ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Boston Police Hunt Prince de Bourbon, Wanted on Suspicion of Bigamy

Check Up Reports That Four Women Had Become Wives of the Man Sought

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Prince Louis Henri de Bourbon, who left a glittering Russian uniform behind in his New York apartment when the police there wanted to find out whether he was not in fact Harold Schwarm, a New Britain, Conn., factory hand, was being sought today by Boston police officers on suspicion of bigamy.

Officers were at work checking up reports that four women, three of them in New England, had become wives of the man at various times in a career that included a job as a dishwasher at the Taunton insane hospital.

The reports which the police are investigating say the first wife was Miss Ethel Abetz of New Britain, Conn., whom the "narrator" is alleged to have married in Hartford in 1918. The second wife is said to have been Miss Catherine Lynn of this city, a department store cashier.

The third is reported to have been a nurse in the Taunton insane hospital and the fourth a Brooklyn, N. Y., girl, who was employed at Metropolitan hospital, Welfare Island, N. Y.

Created Six in New York
NEW YORK, August 7.—Prince Louis Henri de Bourbon, de Bourbon, as West 25th street knew him for a few brilliant days—now sought in Boston on suspicion of bigamy—achieved the pinnacle of his fame in New York last week when, in all the splendor of his Russian uniform, he got himself arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The policeman who made the arrest alleged the prince tried to run him through with his trusty sword because he (the policeman) presumed to encroach on the block in which the prince lived, for the purpose of quelling a disturbance.

O.B.U. ASKS CONFERENCE WITH MILL MEN
LAWRENCE, August 7.—The One Big Union made public today a letter which it addressed to the directors and stockholders of the Pacific mill corporation, calling upon them to recognize the "One Big Union" to hold a conference with its representatives and to settle the textile strike in this city. If the workers return to work under the 20 per cent wage cut, "it would degrade the city beyond the limits of the lowest American standards," the letter says.

Referring to the offer of the Pacific to run the plant with the 20 per cent wage cut effective pending arbitration October 2, the letter suggests that the mill close its doors until that time. In such an event, it says there would be no need of injunctions to prevent picketing.

TO SETTLE COAL STRIKE

Union Leaders and Coal Operators Hold Series of Conferences at Cleveland

Lewis Optimistic Over Possible Results—Hopes for Early Resumption of Work

CLEVELAND, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.) Action toward breaking the nation-wide coal strike in the bituminous fields was under consideration of union leaders and coal operators, who gave a series of conferences here today in the expectation of reaching a wage agreement. Little progress was expected from the opening meetings, both sides joining in an opening conference and then dividing into two groups to organize for further joint conferences.

While only operators of the central competitive field had been invited to the conference, President John L. Lewis of the miners, indicated that the conference might later be extended to include operators from the outlying fields, where some have signified a willingness to settle the wage dispute that brought a general suspension of work in the coal industry more than four months ago. Mr. Lewis said he was "optimistic over the possible results," and held out the hope of an early return to work by the soft coal miners.

Disorders Reported
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.) Leading figures in the railway shopmen's strike were away from Chicago today and this center appeared to be in the doldrums while the next peace move was being formulated.

Scattered incidents of disorder marked the opening of the sixth week of the shopmen's strike. A passenger train on the Western of Alabama, en route from Atlanta to Montgomery, was fired on by alleged strike sympathizers, according to reports from Montgomery. No persons were injured.

W. S. McLane, car foreman in the Illinois Central shops at Birmingham, Ala., was kidnapped by armed men, and taken by automobile to a wood near Cardiff, Ala., where he was badly beaten.

State authorities in Tennessee were investigating a fire of incendiary origin which destroyed the freight station of the Louisville & Nashville railroad and 20 cars in the Knoxville yards. The loss was estimated at $500,000.

Secretary Davis Officially
WASHINGTON, August 7. (By the Associated Press.)—Secretary of Labor Davis expressed the opinion today that much good would come out of the conference, beginning today in Cleveland, between a number of bituminous coal operators and representatives of the United Mine workers. Representatives of the labor department were understood to have been directed to be present as observers.

APPEAL FOR STATE TROOPS

Sheriffs Find Joliet, Ill., Authorities Unable to Cope With Rioting in R. R. Yards

Railroad Agent and Striker Killed—Sheriff Seriously Wounded

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 7.—Rioting in the railroad yards here today resulted in the killing of Special Agent Philip Reitz, of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern road and an unknown striker and the serious wounding of Sheriff James Newkirk.

The trouble is believed to have started over the shooting of a striker last Saturday.

A sheriff's office at 9 o'clock called for state troops after it was decided that local authorities were unable to cope with the situation.

OUTING FOR CHILDREN

Children of Beaver Brook Mill Employees in Camp—Other Outings

Early this morning 29 happy youngsters, children of the employees of the Beaver Brook mills, left Lowell in one of the company's trucks for the summer camp being conducted at Boxford by William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Co. This camp is being run to give the children of the employees of Mr. Wood's mills an opportunity to enjoy a two weeks' vacation.

The camp is located in a grove at Boxford and laid out with all the conveniences that will enable the children to have two happy weeks of freedom and fun. There is a kitchen erected on the grounds in charge of experienced cooks. Baseball diamonds, tennis courts, running tracks, and volleyball courts have been laid out for the children. Every detail that would bring delight to the hearts of children has been provided.

Provision has been made so that the children can enjoy a swim every day, under the care of supervisors. A hospital tent has been set up, with general nurses in attendance, who will care for the minor injuries that sometimes occur when young Americans gather in a convalescent camp.

Each day special features will take place so that this summer camp will be long remembered by the children.

OTHER OUTINGS
A group of women and children of St. Michael's parish held an outing at Revere yesterday. The trip was made by truck, leaving this city about 10 o'clock and returning at 8 in the evening.

The members of the Riverside club went to Canobie lake yesterday. The party, about 40 in all, left Lowell by truck at 8 a. m. and returned at 10 last night.

CAT WANTED AT LOCAL POSTOFFICE

Now that Uncle Sam has officially recognized the cat as a real soldier in the war against rats and has made provision in the appropriations allotted to each postmaster for the upkeep of a cat, Postmaster Deleale has sent out an S.O.S. to the people of Lowell, asking for the services of some nice cat at the postoffice. At present there is no cat there, but there are mice and rats.

The cat will be presented with a roving commission, no guard will challenge him and he will be allowed to rove all over the postoffice. If he gets hungry between meals, he can live on these sweet love letters that clutter the office, because one Romeo once said it is possible to live on love.

It took a little stretching of the law to have this new ruling passed, but the cat's records were cited to show that such a decision was a just and wise one. In years past money has been spent for traps and ferrets to rid the offices of the rodents and now it will be spent to buy meat and milk for pussy, with a little catnip on the side.

With the advent of a cat at the local office war will be declared and no quarter given. During leisure hours, the cat will be well taken care of by the men and will be taught many tricks. One fine advantage that "Tom" will enjoy is that the job is not a political one and will not be subject to the changes of the political wind.

WITNESSES OF WRECK CALLED

Summoned by Coroner's Jury to Recount Details of Rail Disaster

37 Known to Have Been Killed and 138 Injured—Engineer Blamed

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Mo., Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eye-witnesses were summoned today before a coroner's jury at Desoto, Mo., to recount details of the recent collision of two Missouri trains here Saturday when 37 are known to have been killed and 138 injured.

Just south of the scene of the disaster, there is a curve in the road, and this cut off view of the local train standing at a water tank from the engineer of the flying limited.

SENATE SETTLES DOWN TO WORK ON TARIFF

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—An agreement under which amendments to the most important sections of the tariff bill are to be disposed of before the close of the week was in effect today when the senate settled down to its job again. Although it had been found impossible in the struggle last week to formulate a successful program for disposing of the bill itself, the agreement finally evolved Saturday it was hoped would expedite matters so a final vote would be had before September 1.

The agreement to get the more important items still in dispute cleaned up this week, so far as amendments are concerned, came during debate on the sugar schedule. It will serve to curtail sharply discussion on many points and was worked out by several hours of conference between majority and minority representatives.

PRESIDENT TO ANNOUNCE PLAN

To Issue Statement Today Which He Hopes Will Lead to Railroad Peace

Announcement Made After Conference With Jewell and Other Leaders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—President Harding will announce some time today a new plan which he hopes will lead to a termination of the railroad shopmen's strike, it was announced at noon by William H. Johnston, head of the Machinists' union, after he and other union leaders had conferred with the president.

Mr. Johnston with R. M. Jewell, general leader of the striking shopmen, and J. P. Noonan, chief of the electrical workers' brotherhood, spent nearly an hour in conference with the president but professed to have no knowledge as to the forthcoming statement from the executive.

Grable on Way to Washington
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance of railway men, departed at noon today for Washington, to attend a conference of leaders of union men not on strike, called for the purpose of discussing the general situation of the shop crafts strike and petitioning President Harding for an audience.

WORKERS ESCORTED TO MILLS BY SHERIFFS

PAWBUCKET, R. I., August 7.—Members of three families who were brought from Manchug, Maine, last week and who are now occupying company houses in the village, were escorted to the number four mill of the Lonsdale Co. today, by deputy sheriffs. Many strikers, who have now been out 23 weeks, watched the procession, but did not interfere. Treasurer John O. Ames says there are now 26 workers in the number four mill, where several looms are being operated.

GENERAL ALARM AND TWO ALARM FIRES SUNDAY EVENING

Joseph Mullin Coal Company's Stable in Gorham Street Threatened—General Alarm for Fire in Market Street Fruit Store—Passing Locomotive Gives First Alarm—Families Rush to Street in Night Attire

Barely had the firemen succeeded in subduing the flames which completely gutted the Joseph Mullin Coal company stable in upper Gorham street, the first alarm for which sounded at a little after 10 o'clock last night, and a second immediately afterward, when a general alarm from the box at Hanover and Market streets sent them tearing to a fire which started in the Liberty Fruit store at 468 Market street, conducted by Harry Hiliacopoulos. The store is on the lower floor of a three-story building in which there is another store and many tenements overhead. The first warning of the fire at the Mullin stable was given by a passing locomotive, the engineer giving the railroad fire signal of three loud blasts which could be heard at a great distance. A young man in the neighborhood recognized the signal, and looking hastily around detected the

NEW VOTING PRECINCTS TO BE USED AT STATE PRIMARIES

Additional Voting Districts Raise Total Number of Precincts to 31—Public Service Board Meeting—Last Week for City Health Camp—Program for Municipal Movies

Three new voting precincts, in Wards 7, 8 and 9, will be used for the first time at the state primaries on September 12. These additional voting districts raise the total number of precincts in the city to 31 and by them it is hoped that a great deal of confusion will be alleviated.

These new precincts, named 8-4, 7-4 and 9-5, will be so situated in the wards as to practically halve the registration of the largest precinct as now constituted. The one in Ward 8, for instance, will be situated at the corner of Foster and Middlesex streets and will gain its registration from part of old Precinct 1, which will still retain its polling booth at Marlborough and Westford streets.

Precinct 4 of Ward 7 will be made up of residents of upper Moody street and its polling booth will be established in the headquarters of the Paw-cliff's Condition Very Grave

Typhoon Death Toll Now 10,000

HONG KONG, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Casualties in the typhoon and tidal wave which last Wednesday swept the port of Swatow, 250 miles north of here, now are estimated at 10,000. Another British steamer, in addition to the two previously reported ashore, was bound from Hong Kong to Shanghai when she met the fury of the typhoon and was wrecked, but her passengers were saved.

RUN OUT OF COLORADO

Wm. L. Foster, Said to Be Steel Strike Leader Railroaded by Gen. Hamrock

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 7.—William Z. Foster, who, according to Adjutant General P. J. Hamrock of the Colorado Rangers, is a former steel worker, who took an active part in steel strikes in 1919, was run out of Denver and Colorado yesterday at General Hamrock's order. Foster, a General Hamrock declared, is the alleged president of a "soviet Russia" society the correct title of which Gen. Hamrock did not know.

Federal agents, detectives and rangers had been looking for Foster for several days. It was said, but when he arrived on a train from Salt Lake City he eluded them and registered at a hotel. Gen. Hamrock said Foster was disguised. The man was located at his hotel and his suit case which the authorities said contained I. W. W. and Bolshevik literature was confiscated. Foster was taken under protest to an east bound train.

Gen. Hamrock said he had been informed that a secret meeting of those interested in the society was to have been held here last night. He declared that Foster is one of the most dangerous men in the country and that he had been ordered to move on because "he is undesirable."

Birds Return to White House Grounds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—By direction of President Harding, the White House police detail has taken the song birds of the grounds under its protection and made war on three black crows convicted of having routed the songsters. The president noticed some time ago that the song birds seem to be leaving and ordered a police investigation. The crow marauders were detected and a marksmen called in who killed them off after stalking them for three days. Now the song birds are coming back.

Vast Traffic and River Control System Under Consideration

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 6.—Stimulated by important steel interests in the Pittsburgh and Wheeling districts and by agricultural and commercial factors in the midwest, the movement for a waterway to the Gulf of Mexico is attracting the attention of city governments and civic organizations along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Steel companies are showing their practical interest by shipping as much as possible of their products in barges to southern points. Farmers are urging the creation of a trunk line river system and city councils are passing resolutions urging their congressional representation to support any government movement the project may have. Already the councils of Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Louisville, Parkersburg and Cairo have taken action, while resolutions are pending before the councils of Wheeling, Cincinnati, Evansville, Memphis, Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis. Chambers of Commerce in Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Parkersburg, Louisville, Evansville, Memphis and New Orleans have passed similar resolutions.

The project is based on plans prepared by the corps of engineers of the United States army calling for the completion of the Ohio river slack water system which is an open river below Evansville; deepening the channel of the Mississippi to six feet between Minneapolis and St. Louis; dredging an eight-foot channel in the Mississippi between St. Louis and Cairo; the maintenance of a nine-foot channel in the Mississippi from Cairo to New Orleans; and the opening of the Missouri to navigation between St. Louis and Kansas City. These plans when carried out, the army engineers say, would give a 2,000 mile water highway between Pittsburgh and New Orleans and one of equal length between Minneapolis and New Orleans.

Projects for a canal between Lake Erie and the Ohio river are now being urged from Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and other points. Congress has already made some provisions for these waterways and their proponents are urging speedy decision as to the best route and commencement of the work.

Co-ordinate with these river navigation proposals are projects for storing flood waters to be released in periods of dry weather, thus affording protection from flood damages and assuring stream navigation in times of low water. In the near future the Pennsylvania bank has permitted the United States government to enter and purchase cut-over timberlands at the headwaters of the Allegheny river, one of the principal feeders of the Ohio. The territory thus set aside is to be known as the Allegheny national forest and will be supervised and managed exactly as forest reserves in the far west. One million acres have been allotted to this reservation, of which about 400,000 are now being taken over by the federal government.

Hydro-electric power projects in the Allegheny and Blue Ridge mountains of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky, are also under way. One is anticipated by men experienced in river navigation and flood control, will do their part toward decreasing flood risks and assuring full time navigability of the rivers. One of these projects is situated on the Clinch river, a tributary of the Allegheny, in Pennsylvania and is directed under construction. It proposes to impound all the water of the river in the season of full banks and after using it for generating power, permit it to flow out in dry weather at a given rate per day which, it is stated, will materially benefit water transportation down the Allegheny and Ohio rivers.

During the past year the Ohio river has seen the sudden development of a heavy tonnage of steel products transported from Pittsburgh and Wheeling in steel barges, to points along the Mississippi and Ohio for local use and for transshipment by rail into western and southwestern states. The Gates & Laughlin steel company has been regularly sending out a tow of barges once a month, each transporting many thousands of tons of its products at considerable economies in transportation costs. Other large producers of steel have been making use of the Ohio and Mississippi in like manner.

Incident to the general scheme are proposals from Ohio river points and from Chicago and other Illinois cities for connections to be made between the Great Lakes and the river system of the Mississippi basin. Such connections, it is stated, would give this country a system of waterways as freight carriers which could not be duplicated in any other country in the world. Waterways and commercial associations in Illinois are urging that a canal 61 miles in length be cut between La Salle and Joliet, which would connect the canalized Illinois river with the Chicago drainage canal and make a direct connection from the lakes to the gulf, over which it is claimed, great tonnage of freight consisting of manufactured, agricultural and raw products would soon be moving the year around.

The whole scheme, according to close observers, is a unification of shipping, agricultural, flood control, water power and other interests to produce for this country a system of water freight ways, flood control basins, forest projects and other improvements.

Resinol
does wonders for poor complexions

Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment. It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol, a clear, white, cream-like soap, will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.

If your skin isn't just what you want it to be, ask your dealer for Resinol Soap and Ointment.

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated service and power producing systems which will result in big deductions in the costs of transportation, distribution, flood losses and power rates. As the national system of rivers in the Mississippi basin now exists, it is pointed out, there is either too much or too little water in them, according to the season. Installations which will impound the excess water and ease it out when required will result in making these streams powerful agencies for distribution of commodities in conjunction with the national railways and the national highways, the whole creating a vast distribution system.

LOWELL MAN RESCUED

Samuel Friberg Among Five Saved From Drowning at Hampton Beach

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Aug. 7.—There was a series of rescues from drowning on the beach below the Casino late yesterday afternoon, and each was witnessed by thousands, the crowd yesterday being upward of 50,000, the largest of the season thus far. Five male bathers were saved from watery graves, and two others, slightly affected by cramps, were assisted ashore.

Henry Forum, Romeo Lawrence and Jean Eger, who came here from Manchester to spend the day, were in the water shortly after 4 o'clock and got caught in the undertow or said pockets caused by the tide. Lawrence and Eger got caught first and Forum went to their aid in response to cries. All of them got ashore by volunteer lifeguards in charge of P. H. Quintan of Needham, Mass. Volunteer lifeguard Ernest Brett of Exeter threw a lifeline out to the men, but the line broke and it was some seconds before another one was available.

Just before 5 o'clock Samuel Friberg of Lowell, stopping for a vacation on J street, was rescued from the same place on the beach as the three Manchester men. Friberg's companion saved him, but he was having difficulty in doing so and a call was sent to the Hampton Beach Coast-guard station. Capt. Myers and crew responded within 10 minutes by placing their boat on the back of an automobile.

Friberg's companion was bringing him ashore just as the coastguardmen placed their boat in the water. Friberg is said to be a good swimmer. He said he got caught in the undertow.

A third man, whose name could not be learned, was rescued and two others near the same spot.

Included in yesterday's throng was Jack Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, who were en route from Worcester to Aroostook county, Me., where the champion will go in training.

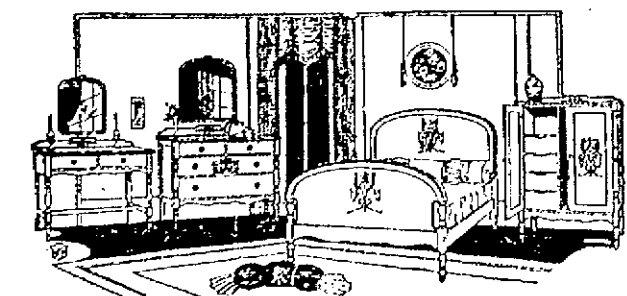

There was one auto accident. Mrs. B. Roston of 15 Williams street, Salem, was knocked down near the Ashworth by a machine driven by Charles Hatfield of Hampton Falls. Mrs. Roston sustained bruises and a severe shock. Harrison was questioned and exonerated.

U. S. Feeds 10,000,000 Russians as American Relief Reaches Its Peak and Dark Spectre Disappears

TYPICAL RUSSIAN LAD, LADEN WITH SUPPLIES, LEAVING AMERICAN RELIEF STATION IN FAYING AREA. DAILY 3,500,000 LIKE HIM ARE FED THROUGH AMERICAN AID

By EDWARD M. THOMAS
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The peak of American relief has been reached in Russia and the spectre of famine has disappeared. That is the message brought by Col. William N. Haskell, director of the American relief administration, just back from Russia, to make a report to Chairman Herbert Hoover, he gives N.E.A. Service a comprehensive survey of the work already done.

"We are feeding 10,000,000 people, including 3,500,000 children and 6,500,000 adults," he says. "The work, covering an area of 4,000,000 square miles, is being done by 200 Americans. Close to 800,000 tons of supplies have been distributed.

"Child feeding was begun last Sept. 1 and adult feeding April 1. By the coming September adult relief will cease, and the feeding of children will be cut down gradually to 1,000,000.

"By that time crops will have matured, for there was much more planting last spring following the distribution by the soviet government of $10,000,000 worth of seed grain.

United States Checks Hunger

"America checked the famine, reduced deaths by starvation to a minimum, and lifted the people over, especially in the Volga region. When the harvest comes our food drive will be practically over and we shall devote our chief attention to medical and sanitation work."

Out of the $30,000,000 subscribed by the American people, two years ago for Central European relief, $8,000,000 has gone to feed Russian children, according to Haskell.

Daily 3,500,000 children visit the 15,000 American kitchens. Each has plate and spoon and receives a well cooked meal consisting of bread, cocoa and milk and either rice, beans or corn grits.

Out of the $20,000,000 appropriated by congress 200,000 tons of corn have been shipped into the Volga region. Needy adults numbering 5,000,000 receive 3 pounds of corn a month. This they grind, usually by primitive methods, and make into corn bread.

Feed 1,500,000 in Ukraine

An additional 1,500,000 adults are being fed at soup kitchens in the Ukraine—mostly refugees from the Volga region—and along the Polish border, where from 3000 to 6000 repatriated Poles pour daily through the town of Minsk alone.

"They swarmed into railway stations so fast," says H. L. Gilchrist, member of Col. Haskell's staff, "that we had to have the commissariat to carry away the dead. Babies were born there daily."

Barracks have been built at many relief stations for the inoculation of at least 10,000,000 persons. This inoculation campaign, the greatest ever conducted, is against typhoid and cholera.

At least 800,000 have been fed by food rations sent to special individuals by friends and relatives in other countries.

$1,000,000 in Food Monthly

The American relief administration distributes $1,000,000 worth of food a month in 100,000 packets. Remittance orders are bought at $10 each—75 per cent coming from America—and the food, shipped in bulk, is put up at Moscow warehouses.

Each of these packets contains 49 pounds of flour, 20 cans of condensed milk, 24 pounds of rice, 10 pounds of sugar, 10 pounds of lard and three pounds of tea. This is enough to feed a family of four for a month.

INCREASES IN FOOD PRICES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Retail food prices in 15 out of 24 representative cities in the United States showed an increase during the month from June to July 1922, the department of labor statistics announced yesterday.

Increases were noted as follows: Manchester, N. H., and Portland, Me., 4 per cent; Bridgeport and New Haven, Conn., three per cent; Chicago, Denver, Fall River and Milwaukee, two per cent; Atlanta, Baltimore, Columbus, Houston, Jacksonville and San Luke City, one per cent; Pittsburgh less than five-tenths of one per cent.

Decreases occurred as follows: Philadelphia and Richmond, two per cent; Cincinnati, Detroit and Kansas City one per cent; Little Rock, New York, Scranton and Washington, D. C., less than five-tenths of one per cent.

COST OF LIVING IS A SERIOUS PROBLEM

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A rate of exchange alarmingly low and prices of foodstuffs exorbitantly high have conspired to make the cost of living in Portugal a serious problem. And juggling as an additional factor cannot be overlooked.

Several highly placed state functionaries have been arrested and jailed, charged with conspiracy and the holding of secret meetings, which is an indication of an underlying political unrest. It is felt in some quarters that a military movement is in preparation, to act in case of a fresh outbreak of the turbulent elements which brought about the political assassinations of last October.

The press is clamoring against the economic condition of the country, and Seculo vehemently exhorts the government to put an end to the speculation to which it chiefly attributes the increasing fall in exchange. The minister of finance is trying to raise an internal loan and has had conferences with several of the most prominent Portuguese bankers to this end. His efforts have not so far been successful.

One of the factors said to contribute to the situation is that, although exportation amounts to several million pounds, all this money is deposited in foreign banks instead of being paid out in the country. At the same time, gambling in exchange is being carried on in a barefaced manner in London banks alone there is said to be over 25,000,000 Portuguese pounds which would greatly improve the rate of exchange if left here. The constant arrest of officers and civilians and the fact of the troops having to keep within barracks, to be ready at a moment's notice, adds to the general unrest.

Spook directs attention to the statement of the British Premier, Lloyd George calling upon the nations which owe England money to pay interest charges in October. This debt amounts to over 5,000,000 pounds, and in the paper asks if the interest is to be paid when due.

ALBANIA WAITING FOR AMERICAN RECOGNITION

TIRANA, Albania, Aug. 7.—Albania's hope of recognition by the United States has been revived with the visit here of Maxwell Black, formerly Consul-General in Morocco, who was sent by the American state department to report upon the political situation. Since its admittance to the League of Nations 18 months ago, Albania has been striving hard to establish a stable government and to win the confidence and respect of the nations of the world.

Many of the European countries have recognized Albania as a nation, and the natives cannot understand why the United States has not followed suit. Albania supports a consul at New York, who looks after Albania's commercial interests. Issues visas for passports, etc., but who is not recognized officially by the state department.

Albania is extremely poor and primitive, and will require friendly support from Europe and America if it is to retain its statehood and national unity. It is smaller in area than the state of Vermont, and has less people than the city of Boston. Mohammedans and Christians are about equally represented in its million and a half population. While the Albanians have many failings, due to centuries of evil influence by invaders, honesty and fidelity are strong traits in their character. They are a hearty, hospitable people. Visitors to their country, especially Americans who have been so sympathetic toward them in their struggle for national existence, are treated with the utmost cordiality.

AMERICAN LIBRARY IN ROME
ROME, Aug. 7.—Moved by the belief that Italy and the United States should know each other better, resident Americans founded here since the war the Library for American Studies and the Italo-American association. Both organizations are prospering. The summer course for Americans has been opened at the Rome university. The meetings are held in the Palazzo Salviati by ex-Ambassador Tittoni, now minister of public instruction, and special lectures will be given during the course by Professors Boni Venturi, Gentili, and other well-known men.

Grandfather's Millions Make Her Most Eligible Young Woman of Southwest

ANNE BURNETT, GRANDDAUGHTER OF TEXAS' RICHEST MAN, AND TOM BURNETT, HIS SON

(By N.E.A. Service)
PORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 7.—Stock dowagers of Texas are busily building bonanzas for Miss Anne Burnett. For she has suddenly become the most eligible young woman in the southwest.

There are some of the things Miss Burnett owns:

Three great stock ranches whose area is more than half as large as all Rhode Island.

Two skyscrapers in Fort Worth.

A home in Fort Worth that cost $200,000.

Liberty bonds valued at $200,000.

Stocks and bonds that bring her entire holdings to $150,000,000.

It is all hers because her grandfather, Capt. S. B. Burnett, regarded as the wealthiest man in Texas, died recently and left her the bulk of his estate. And he cut off his only surviving son, Tom L. Burnett, with $25,000 a year.

A provision of the will was that Tom, himself a wealthy rancher, will get nothing if he tries to break the will. Administrators say there will be no contest.

Tom was recently divorced from his wife, formerly Lucille Mullin, who with her father took part in rodeo shows.

Captain Burnett was a Texas cowboy, who fought Indians and hunted buffalo. When he died at 74 he was a banker, rancher and capitalist. He started on borrowed money and built up his holdings until he owned three ranches covering 500,000 acres, stocked with high bred cattle. Some of the biggest Texas oil wells were drilled on his property.

operating in perfect order, and Engineer Glenn of the fast train, should have slowed his train down to such a speed that he could have come to a halt almost instantly.

Survivors drew a vivid picture of the accident. A blast from the whistle of the limited told of its approach around the curve along the high towering bluff, and this caused a few who had alighted from the local to look back nervously.

Rushing around the curve came the fast train. There were shouts. Then the roar of the crash, cries of women and moans of men.

The rear coach was hurled down the embankment. The next two cars, standing on the trestle across Glendale creek and on the embankment, were crushed and splintered. The fourth tumbled down the incline north of the creek.

The roof of one of the demolished cars fell, scattering the crew, and afforded a lifeline for the rescuers.

Where the day coaches of the local had stood across the trestle, now stood the steel cars of the flyer. The locomotive had plowed its way through more than half the length of the half-

Fast Train Hit Local

Train No. 4, a fast passenger vestibuled steel train, running at full speed, crashed into No. 32, a local, composed of five wooden day coaches, a baggage and an express car, as the engine was taking on water with the coaches stretching back on a trestle over Glendale creek.

The impact hurled two of the local coaches down a 60-foot embankment edging the Mississippi and teleported four other coaches, crushing a number of passengers to death in their seats.

Both trains were behind time. The fast passenger, running from Port Worth, Tex., to St. Louis, carrying 150 passengers, and the local, 150 persons.

Engineer Glenn was killed when he jumped from his cab just before the crash. Edward Tinsley, also of St. Louis, fireman of No. 4, who remained at his post, was injured seriously.

Called to Other Order

Engineer Glenn shortly before arriving in Sulphur Springs received orders "on the run" to pull over on a siding at Cliff Cave, 10 miles north of here, to allow "Sunshine Special No. 1," en route from St. Louis to Texas points, to pass. John Carmon, assistant manager of the road, explained the engineer failed to heed the signal because he apparently was reading these orders when he passed the block. The orders were found near his body.

Glenn appeared on the scene shortly after the crash and robbed the dead and dying. Only one was arrested. He said he was William Hall of St. Louis. Several pieces of wearing apparel taken from the victims were found on his person and a bibbo was in his waist. The bibbo, it was said, had been the property of Rev. V. O. Pansley of Des Moines, one of those killed.

The dead and injured were spread over an area of several city blocks and chicken crates, automobile cushions, baggage and the railroad tracks constituted their couches.

This little village of 150 inhabitants was unable to care for the injured and they, along with the dead, were taken to St. Louis and Des Moines.

Only One Doctor on Hand

Dr. W. W. Hall was the only physician administering to the injured for several hours until relief trains arrived.

"I had some assistance we might have saved some of the dying," Dr. Hall told a representative of the Associated Press. "At one time I was trying to treat 25 persons simultaneously."

"The cries of the injured had to go unheeded in many cases. Mothers begged for news of their babies and children cried for their parents. One 11-month-old child, unable to tell her name, was found a mile from the scene of the disaster, asking for 'Mama.' A woman from St. Louis took her in charge.

Sad Fate of One Family

One of the saddest scenes reported was that of the De Gonia family of St. Louis. Four of the family of six were killed and the father is reported dying in a St. Louis hospital. Three of the De Gonia children, Ralph, 6; Melvin, 5; and Robert, 14 months, lay dead to the right of their father before he could be removed and Mrs. De Gonia lay dead to his left.

Mr. De Gonia in his delirium clasped his infant son to his breast, repeating between groans of pain, "Thank God, Bobbie, we're all alive!" not knowing that four of his family had been killed.

In the confusion several bodies were hurled aboard the relief trains before being checked, leaving the number of dead uncertain. Many could not be identified because their effects had been scattered over such a wide area.

The railroad tracks parallel the Mississippi river, and the trestle on which the disaster occurred spans Glendale Creek where it enters the river. As a result, a report was current that a number of bodies were washed into the Mississippi, but there was no way of verifying this report.

Rescue was hampered by lack of light. This village is without electricity and the rescue workers and mortally curious made their way among the mass of twisted steel and crumpled wooden coaches by the aid of kerosene torches and candles.

Thousands of persons visited the scene yesterday, and roads were blocked for three miles. Dr. Hall said bodies were found 300 feet from the scene of the accident. One body was buried under a log. Dr. Carmon, corner of Jackson County, said a thorough investigation of the accident will be made.

HOW LUTHER BURBANK, PLANT WIZARD, STANDS ON HIS HEAD AT 73.

BY GENE COHEN

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 7.—At 73 Luther Burbank, horticultural wizard, is fresh, productive and healthy as the soil from which he gets his wonder plants.

He stands on his head with the skill of any small boy. He jumps the rope with neighbors' youngsters and canals his garden fence.

His theory: "Keep growing like the plants. Don't let weeds grow in your mind."

If his pepful condition were not sufficient argument for his life philosophy, the "plant wizard" can point to 3000 new experiments under way on his farm. Grains as a class still occupy the greater part of his attention.

Near Children Like Plants

But it is in the youth of America and its future that his kindly impulses turn at 73 and to parents he delivers this appeal: "Train your children like plants."

"The one place truly fit for rearing of children is the country or the small town," he says.

"The nearer to nature the better."

St. Louis relatives of victims when two trains bearing scores of dead and injured arrived here from the scene of the disaster. For hours before the arrival of the death trains crowds surged through the station seeking word that might allay their fears.

Crowds gathered at the city morgue where 25 dead were taken after their arrival on the relief trains, which also brought many injured who were rushed to hospitals.

Broken under the strain of her services as volunteer nurse for injured from the ill-fated local train, Miss Florence Steingrub lay in her home in Manhattan, a suburb, suffering from nervous prostration, while her sister, Malie, was recovering from injuries received when she was hurled against a seat.

After caring for scores of injured at the scene of the wreck, Miss Steingrub assisted in bringing here J. E. Tinsley, injured fireman of the flyer, which on its way to St. Louis crashed through the coaches of the local. The two sisters had spent their vacation at Arcadia, and were on their way home. They were passengers on the fast train.

HOW PULLMAN CARS ARE NAMED

CHICAGO, August 7.—For the first time the Pullman company has made public its system of naming cars. The names and the mystery connected with them have long been a subject of curiosity for 40 years.

"Sequence is the system. One name suggested another," says the Pullman bulletin.

"Bath and Nymph, Venus and Adonis, Dewey and Manila."

The first car named in the bulletin came sometime with clanking thought, "Helen and Paris. Also Trojan, Helen, Achilles, Hector, Ajax, Nestor, Ulysses and Penelope."

Then came selections from Dickens' characters. Kipling and his works, Walter Scott's characters, names, Ireland and its counties, King Arthur and the Round Table knights.

To titillate the palates of those who were no also of a fire. Two of the names there are the cars Bourbon, Remy, Gordon, Manhattan, Moselle, Bergandy, Tokyo, Yvette, Cognac, Scotland and Breckinridge. Hope is seen in the Wetmore, but there are also Aqua and Temperance.

Adventures of the Twins

GUINOA-PIG'S LIFE IN DANGER

THEN OSCAR CALLED UP THE FIELD MOUSE

Poor little George Guinea-pig was unhappy. He was tired of being made fun of because he had no tail.

So one day he went to the house of Dr. Sniffles, the fairyman doctor, and told him his troubles.

"Is there anything I can do?" he asked. "Is there any medicine I can take that will grow me a tail?"

"Nothing I know of," answered the kind little doctor. "Nancy Nick, did you ever hear of anything good for growing tails?"

The twins said they had never heard of anything.

So George paddled off home again to the old box beside the hen-house. He felt so unhappy his tears dropped from his funny little black shoe-button eyes.

"Oh, me, oh my!" he wailed. "I'd be the happiest person in the world if I only had a tail."

Now old Oscar Owl had heard the whole thing and he cooked up a plan. "I see where I got two meals tonight instead of one," he hooted. "Little Filippus Fieldmouse just got done telling his mama he was tired of his long tail because it was always getting away his hiding-hole. I'll telephone to both of them."

So he called up the hen-house and asked Mrs. Leghorn please to get George Guinea-pig to the telephone.

George came at once.

"This is my friend," croaked Oscar Owl. "I know where you can find a tail. Come to the edge of Whispering Forest under the old hickory tree at eight sharp."

"I'll be there!" squeaked George happily.

Then Oscar called up the Fieldmouse. Only he told Flop that the knew how he could lose his tail—which was more like the truth.

General Alarm Fire

end of the stable. He ran to the corner of Moore and Gayham streets and pulled in the alarm.

In the meantime, a number of other young men rushed into the building and succeeded in getting out the three horses, four mules, auto truck and a litter of puppies with their mother. The litter was originally sent on in a motor but some animal stole one of them in the excitement.

The firemen were quick in arriving on the scene and under the direction of District Chief Sullivan, Saunders and Crowley exerted a tremendous effort in keeping the fire from gaining ground. Two tons of hay, the contents of the stable after the removal of the live stock and auto truck, were destroyed and the interior gutted. It was estimated that the total loss would reach slightly less than $5000.

Among those who assisted in removing the horses and mules were two firemen, Martin Slattery and Joseph Malone, of duty for the night and residing in the neighborhood.

William Maslow, Richard Emerson, and Frederick McMahon, while the auto truck was driven out by Albert Chase. The dogs were removed by Fred McMahon.

The young men succeeded in ruining their clothes in this work.

After the flames had gained headway, the fire department began to pull the building and the firemen's work became hazardous.

The proprietor, Joseph Mullin, was camped at Long-Straight-Ford pond, with his son, Leon Mullin, at Hamilton beach. The man in charge of the stable, a Mr. G. G. handled the work very capably.

Just as the fire seemed to be under complete control, box 125, corner of Moore and Gayham streets, exploded, a tremendous and District Chief Sullivan and Saunders were off at once to the assistance of District Chief Crowley.

With a part of the apparatus following, as they arrived on the spot District Chief Crowley rang in a general alarm bringing not only the forces from the Gayham street fire but all others in the city, including call men. Police reserves responded under the direct supervision of Superintendent Sullivan, who was present at the Mullin fire as well.

It took but a short time to get the market street blaze under control, the house being protected with water and the fire confined to the first floor only. The rear of the store and a room adjoining suffered most.

Noting of the general alarm prevented what might have been a most serious blaze in a section composed principally of wooden houses.

Officer William Liston stated that as he passed the store a few moments before the alarm was sounded there was no sign of a fire. Two or three muffled explosions which may have come from heated air, were heard, and it was very evident that the fire started in the rear. A tailor shop next door was badly smoked out.

District Chief Sullivan questioned many persons in the neighborhood relative to the possible cause of the fire and the record of the proprietor of the store as well. After a discussion with the other district chief he announced that he believed the fire to be of incendiary origin and would recommend an investigation by the state police. The proprietor of the store, Harry Elieopoulos, has been in business for several years at that location. The building is the property of George Husean.

Three families reside above the store.

Radio Indispensable to Farmers For Broadcasting of Latest Market News

HERSHEL H. JONES, PIONEER IN BROADCASTING CROP AND MARKET REPORTS.

Radio sets are becoming as indispensable as tractors to the farmers of the United States.

Through these they are able to keep close tabs on the daily market conditions for the sale of their crops. This information, of utmost interest to every farmer, is being disseminated by radio by the U. S. bureau of markets and crop estimates.

This service was begun experimentally on Dec. 15, 1920. It has developed so rapidly that at the present time, the national market news is being distributed not only by the federal bureau but by state departments, air mail depots, universities and many private broadcasting stations throughout the country.

The result is almost instantaneous news of the various changes in the market situations and a greater distribution of this information even to points where communication by mail, telegraph or railroad could be considerably slower.

One of the men who had much to do toward the inauguration of radio broadcasting of market information was Hershel H. Jones of New York. At the time of its adoption by the federal government he was director of the bureau of food and markets in New York. He saw the wonderful possibilities of radio in this service and was not slow in interesting state and national authorities.

When officials of the bureau of markets saw the success they were having with this service, they made plans for expansion. They first won the consent of the postoffice department to use the air mail radio service for broadcasting crop and market reports. Then the agricultural colleges took it up and later other universities and private stations consented to relay the reports to farmers in their districts.

These reports are sent out on wave lengths of 2500, 3000 and 4000 meters. This, it is explained, is because of the greater transmitting range afforded by the use of the longer waves and less interference. For this reason, the private broadcasting stations transmitting on wave lengths of 360 meters, are extremely useful in relaying the messages from Washington to the farmers in their localities.

Code Reports

Although telephone communication is being used to some extent, the market service still transmits a large part of its information by radio telegraph. This, because a code can be used which allows a more rapid transmission than otherwise. Only certain kinds of market information are sent out by code, however.

Several states, however, have installed radio broadcasting equipment by which the reports received in code form are transmitted by radiophone for the benefit of producers.

A number of states have established information centers for transmitting the broadcast information through other channels to farmers who have no radio receivers. Progressive agricultural counties, also, in connection with farmers' organizations, have installed radio receiving equipment.

FUR STYLES

The first fur garments to be featured for winter wearing and summer buying show slim, tailored lines with just enough flare to ripple the hem. For flappers the sports style is featured, but for women the semi-dress type is most popular. Caracul, in black and in beige color, promises to be one of the leading furs.

NEW HOOK-UP TO HELP CUT OUT STATIC

BY PAUL F. GODLEY

America's Foremost Radio Authority. Aside from those very expensive, elaborate and bulky methods used by the high-power trans-Atlantic stations, all of which are entirely out of the question for the smaller amateur stations, the best method of reducing static is shown in the diagram.

Here two three-element vacuum tubes are connected to act as two-element tubes, the grid and the plate of the tubes being connected together. The tubes are arranged with their controlling batteries in parallel, but in such way as to be in opposition to each other in the circuit.

Tube A is adjusted for maximum sensitivity on a given signal in the usual manner, while the tube B is adjusted to respond only to signals which are fairly strong.

When weak signals are incoming, the tube B is inoperative. Its presence may be ignored so far as its effect on the incoming signal is concerned.

But when intense oscillations are produced either by local crashes of static or by heavy signals from a nearby interfering station, B becomes operative immediately. It rectifies the currents in the same way as tube A and almost to the same extent, and, since the tubes are opposed, annuls the effect of the loud signals in the 'phone receivers.

This method is known as current limiting.

It will not prevent the reception of static, but it will prevent the reception of static signals of greater strength than the signal which is being listened to. Thus the ear is not temporarily paralyzed by the great crashes of static.

In actual practice, both on music and telegraphic signals, the method has been used for many years with considerable success.

WAS INJURED IN BALL GAME

A painful bruise on the head, sustained while playing ball on the Woodward avenue grounds yesterday, caused the removal of James Brennan, 19-year-old son of Patrick Brennan of 38 Second avenue to the Lowell General hospital, where his condition was reported as much improved today.

The accident happened in the first inning of a game between the Fox-tucket Blues and the St. Ann's Frogs. Brennan was at bat when a member of his own team tried to steal home as the opposing pitcher wound up. In the mixup which followed, the batter was forcibly hit on the side of the head, rendering him unconscious.

The victim is well known locally, having played on the high school baseball team a few years ago. For the past two years he has been attending Boston college, where he also counts a host of friends.

TALKED ON "THE CHRISTIAN WEALTH"

Rev. Myron D. Fuller, a former resident of this city, conducted the Sunday morning services at the Park Street Congregational church in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Arthur G. Lyon. He preached a very interesting sermon on "The Christian's Wealth."

Rev. Mr. Fuller is a brother of Mrs. Arthur G. Fuller of this city, and since his departure from Lowell has occupied important pulpits in Connecticut and New York state. A short time ago Mr. Fuller, who is a former pastor of the Dancet Center Congregational church, gave an address at the "Old Home Sunday" held by that church. At present he has no settled pastorate and plans to remain in Lowell for a short while. Next Sunday he will preach in Chelmsford Centre.

ST. RAILWAY WILL ISSUE NEW TICKETS

Beginning Wednesday, Aug. 9, the 50-cent street railway ticket, containing 8 rides will be withdrawn, and a 11 ticket, good for 16 rides, will be substituted. The rate of exchange is unchanged in the use of this ticket, but the initial cost of the ticket will be $1. This change was announced last night by Manager Thomas Lees of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway.

The new ticket can be divided into two parts so that the purchaser can detach one-half for his own personal use and give the other to anyone whom he wishes. The idea has met with great success in Fall River where it has been in operation for some time.

The present 50 cent ticket will be acknowledged until used up.

NEWEST COIFFURE

The newest coiffure is striking rather than becoming. It completely uncovers the ear and adds some curls, plastered down flat in the Spanish fashion. All the hair is gathered into a knot at the nape of the neck and a huge Spanish comb added.

WILL WALK AGAIN FOR FIRST TIME IN 39 YEARS

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A positive promise that, on Aug. 15 he will be able to walk for the first time in 39 years was the joyful news that Frederick W. Birge, a 63-year-old Middlebury, Vt., farmer, heard yesterday at the hospital for the ruptured and crippled. On that date, surgeons said, a plaster cast, extending from his foot to the shoulder blades, will be removed, temporary braces adjusted and he will walk. Birge, crippled with infantile paralysis at the age of 11 and his legs contracted in a sitting position, has undergone a series of operations at the hospital since Dec. 19 last. Operations have been performed on both hips and both ankles and his legs stretched and straightened.

Surgeons who have followed the case declare that this is the longest period of paralysis terminating in recovery known to surgical science.

Notwithstanding his handicap, Birge, who has been able to move about on a wheel chair, has superintended his 60-acre farm in Vermont and had supported himself and sister.

CITY PLANNING

Recently a planning board was appointed for Lowell, but judging from the comments very generally made at the time, it would seem that the general public takes this matter of a planning board as a joke. It remains, therefore, for the members of the board to prove that it is a real live entity, capable of directing the city's progress along the most practical lines in building up a bigger and more beautiful Lowell. For this purpose it will be necessary to adopt some general plan of progressive public improvements, the completion of which might require a long period of years.

Undoubtedly the members of this board will ask themselves what they are expected to do or what they can do to promote public improvements. Unfortunately the recommendations of the planning board that formerly existed here, were very generally ignored and if the present board is similarly treated, it might as well resign at once, rather than waste time in studying improvements and making recommendations that the city government will never try to carry into effect. To the ordinary citizen acquainted with local conditions, however, there are certain improvements that must come in the natural course of events, unless our city is to go backward instead of keeping abreast of the times in the march of municipal progress. First of all, then, it should be understood that a generous share of our municipal expenditures should be devoted to the improvement of our public streets and thoroughfares. That appears to be a most pressing necessity at the present time. After this will come the question of providing public parking spaces for automobiles in the downtown district in order to relieve the congestion that is blocking traffic and obstructing business in our busiest thoroughfares. In this connection, it may be mentioned that there must eventually be some street constructed parallel to lower Central street. Many years ago it was proposed to extend Palmer street to Middlesex, and that problem may be revived by the planning board in order to relieve the congestion of traffic on Central street. As an alternative proposition or rather supplementary, it will be necessary in the future to widen Davidson street and extend it to Anderson. There are among the more important street projects that will come up in the near future. There will also be bridge questions as already a bridge is needed across the Concord river at South Lowell and another will be called for across the Merrimack above Pawtucket Falls. There is also great need of a bridge across Beaver Brook at Rosemont terrace.

If the more important of these projects were carried through, it would be advisable to have District Navy Yard and North Chelmsford annexed to Lowell in order to afford the city sufficient space for healthy growth. At the present time, there is congestion in the business districts that might be overcome through annexation. Besides, thousands of people work in the factories of Lowell who reside in the neighboring towns so that they do not even pay a poll tax in Lowell. If we are to keep pace with Cambridge, Fall River and New Bedford, we must annex additional territory; and there is reason to believe that if our city government be conducted on business principles and the tax rate kept moderate, some of the surrounding towns would not object to being added, at least in part, to our city.

We offer these few suggestions to our planning board with the hope that some of them will be brought forward and pressed upon the attention of the city government as among the more essential steps toward a bigger, better and more beautiful Lowell.

A CONVENTION CITY

It may be some years yet before we can confidently and correctly call Lowell a "convention city," but we have no doubt the effort to make the Spindle City a municipality worth visiting at all times, particularly by great organizations meeting in annual conferences, will not lack of ready support.

Manchester, N. H., has just started a campaign with "Manchester a Convention City in 1923" as its slogan. The effort is sponsored and joyfully backed up by all members of the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club, the chamber of commerce and other Manchester organizations of a similar nature having to do with the business and social welfare of the "Amoskeag city." Already several national organizations of business men, notably the National Association of United Commercial Travelers, have decided upon Manchester as the place for their 1922 convention. Hotels and merchants are anxiously in the convention city movement, and in 1923, it is predicted, Manchester will have more conventions than ever before in her entire history.

The movement can be copied by other New England cities, including Lowell, with the same fervor. There are, of course, rather inadequate hotel accommodations in this city for large gatherings of civic or commercial bodies, but Lowell can take care of pretty good-sized crowds as it is, and the campaign just started up in Manchester, which has no extraordinary hotels to boast of any more than Lowell, shows what live organizations can do for their city. The dedication of our magnificent Memorial Auditorium should give Lowell a wide reputation among the convention cities of the country.

UNIFORM SIGNS

The authorities controlling our city and town highways should adopt uniform signs on all main highways. The sooner this work is done the better it will be for motorists and hence for pedestrians. No two communities, as a matter of fact, employ the same highway signs, and while riding from one city or town to another, operators of cars are kept busy guessing what they are going to find at the next crossroads. Uniformity of signals by competent traffic officers all over the state is the rule now, except in some of the remote rural districts where the word of mouth is depended upon rather than the machine semaphore. Uniform roadway signs all over the state would materially aid transportation matters. But in every case the signs should be clearly legible and not, as in numerous instances, the battered targets of small boys in their stone-throwing practice.

SAFETY IN TRAVEL

The electric street car lines of America's leading cities are continually improving in transportation circles, where the safety of human life is concerned. Some twenty years ago many serious accidents on street railways were reported. Today this mode of travel is about the safest we have, according to figures just compiled by the National Safety council. During the past five years street car fatalities have gradually decreased, while automobile, truck and bus accidents have been rapidly increasing. Safety education and development of traffic were responsible for the sudden drop in the last two years. With the death toll from automobiles hovering around 3000 annually the safety problem becomes one of very vital importance.

UKULELE

Manuel Nunnes, inventor of the ukulele, dies in Honolulu. He built the first ukulele out of a cigar box in 1879.

The ukulele music, played by native Hawaiians, later swept our country as a craze, made popular by "The Girl of Paradise." This music is a hash of old-time camp-meeting songs taken across the Pacific by missionaries.

Nunnes was a powerful man. His invention swayed the emotions of millions. It seems too bad that we can't see common-sense to music. Maybe we could. No one ever tried it. With economies in ragtime form, even statistics would be interesting.

RUSSIAN REDS

Trotsky, the erstwhile fire enter, cuts the Russian standing army to 250,000 troops. He says he has five divisions that many trained reserves, but they are at work in the harvest fields. Like all idealists, Trotsky has found that the stomach is man's real ruler. When it is empty, the owner is not interested in anything else, not even in theoretical economics.

It may not be so easy to get the harvest forces back into the army. A Bolshevik private soldier in paid an average of 6,000,000 rubles a month, but that is only around $1.50 in our money.

ANCIENT DRESS

Clothes that were worn by men 700 years ago are dug up in an ancient Greenland cemetery by Neorlund, Danish scientist. They are the only specimens of their kind in existence.

Put on one of these costumes and you would look as if you had gotten up in a hurry and dragged the sheets with you. The long strip of cloth draped the wearer loosely. This is one style that will never return. Fancy such an outfit getting caught while cranking a motor. But the equipment of today wears clothing that would look equally clumsy to people of this climate.

MUNICIPAL MOVIES

Several Norwegian cities have taken over their movie theatres and run them as municipal enterprises, like markets and water. Christiania is making $350,000 a year profit in this line.

This is getting back to the ancient Greek idea of the theatre endowed by the state. We should probably have the same thing in America very soon, particularly for educational purposes. And if, as will soon come to pass, the pictures talk right out to the audience the question of censorship may come up with increased emphasis to prevent some belligerent person in the audience from getting up and calling the movie speaker a liar.

MARS

If Mars is inhabited, the best time to find it out will be in August, 1924. The red planet will then be closer to us than for another 500 years.

Prof. David Todd, celebrated astronomer, doubts that it is physically possible to communicate with Mars by wireless. But he is preparing to make motion pictures of it in 1924.

Real results eventually will come from this exploration in the sky. Man already knows more about Mars, as a whole, than he knows about the earth when Columbus set sail for America.

On the democratic side, the candidates seeking the nomination for governor have not yet taken the stump, but they are all working quietly to strengthen themselves with the voters. John P. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston, ex-Governor Peas, Mayor Sullivan of Worcester and Joseph Ely of Westfield are the candidates in the lineup. Sullivan and Ely are new men with whom the voters will have to get better acquainted.

The fight for district attorney promises to be a lively one regardless of who may get the republican nomination. With James C. Reilly, Esq., the nominee on the democratic ticket, the republican candidate will have a real battle on his hands.

Perhaps nothing in this campaign has been quite so impressive as the childishness with which the candidacy of Attorney General J. Weston Allen for governor, has been received by republicans.

BUSINESS HOLDING UP

Strikes Expected to Be Settled Before Serious Results Are Felt

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (By the Associated Press.)—While the strikes have exerted an increasing effect on industrial activity during the past week and while foreign developments have been somewhat unsettling, the undertone in the country's chief markets has remained cheerful. Security prices have held up well and the view still prevails that the strikes will be settled before the business revival has been seriously crippled.

With the railroads refusing the president's proposal for a restoration of full authority to the striking workmen, financial quarters are now focusing their attention on coal production figures and railroad freight statistics. Taking the latest available figures, those for the week ended July 22, the movement of freight, exclusive of coal, remains remarkably good. Total loadings of $3,000,000 cars showed a slight improvement over the previous week and were within 10,000 cars of the high record for the year. Exclusive of coal, the loadings were the highest in history for this season of the year.

Coal production appears to be recovering but slowly from the low level of three weeks ago. Continuing the slight gain previously recorded, the past week started with a further betterment. Although the complete figures for this week are not yet available, it would appear doubtful whether output has risen very materially above the 4,000,000 ton level. Much depends therefore on the success of the measures now being taken to reduce congestion on the coal carrying roads. Crop prospects show little change. The government's cotton crop estimate as of July 25, which was made public on Tuesday, showed an increase in anticipated yield of 231,000 bales, the crop being placed at 11,459,000 bales. Nevertheless the trade has expected the estimate to be some 250,000 bales larger than actually turned out to be the case. A sharp rally in prices occurred but the gains were lost before the week closed. Grain prices continued to drop and traders expect tomorrow's government estimate to record a slight increase in the yield of wheat.

Money rates remain at recent low levels, with no signs of immediate tightening and the reserve ratio of the combined federal reserve banks has reached a new high of 73.9 per cent. This is due partly to importations of British gold, which may have caused for the time being, but it is clear that the underlying credit situation remains unchanged.

Prosperity Returning

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—While the "retarding effect of labor difficulties on industry" is said to be shown in department of commerce figures recently received for the month of June, "these disturbances do not seem to have affected the deeper undercurrent of returning prosperity," said the statement issued today.

Production in many industries has been slowed down by the announcement of the statement added, "but there is a general feeling that early settlement will be reached and the business will continue to gain in volume." The department's wholesale price index showed an advance of two points for the month reached 150 as compared with 112 a year ago, practically all commodities showing the advance although slight declines in farm products and general commodities were noted. The bureau of labor statistics count of living figures for the quarter showed no substantial change.

BUY PROVISION AND GROCERY STORE

Axel E. Ohlson and Leo Gerow have bought the provision and grocery store, formerly occupied by William Patton, at 15 Gorham street. This is said to be the oldest market in Lowell, having been a provision store for the last 61 years. Both men are well known to the people of this city and suburbs. Mr. Ohlson was general manager for the past six years with the Union market, provision to that time he was with the late John J. Sauters, who conducted the market under the name on Gorham street, and then has had years of experience in buying and selling. Mr. Gerow, also has had much experience in the market business. After spending some time with his father, David Gerow, on Chelmsford street, he entered the employ of Mr. Patton, with whom he stayed for seven years, and the past three years or more has been with the Union market. The new proprietors expect to open for business soon and at the present time seek in Mr. Ohlson a man who is fully engaged in renovating the store throughout.

ORPHANAGE OUTING AT CANOBIE LAKE

Arrangements are practically completed for the big outing to be given the children of St. Peter's orphanage at Canobie lake on Wednesday, August 9. The League of Catholic women will take charge of the children for the day, giving the sisters of the orphanage a real holiday. The children will leave the orphanage on Stevens street in special cars at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and ride directly to the park. There games and other features will be carried out under the supervision of the women. In the afternoon all the features of the park will be enjoyed and before the departure for home luncheon will be served. The return trip will be made at 5 o'clock. Donations for the outing will be received at the orphanage today and tomorrow.

WOMAN CHARGES HER GARTER STOLEN

BOSTON, August 7.—Claiming that she was robbed of her garter, a well-dressed young woman, who gave the name of Mrs. Ada Kelsey and her address as New York city, was brought to the East Boston Police court yesterday morning in a hysterical condition. She said she was at the Bella Vista station of the Narragansett road and that she asked a young man to get her into an automobile to take her to the South station. As she walked along Huntington street with the young man, she claimed a crowd of people came along and they attempted to attack her and one of them stole her garter. She screamed for assistance and people driving by went to her aid. They later had her removed to the hospital.

Irregulars Frustrated by Fere Staters

DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Republican forces from the southern battle zone attempted a coup in the Dublin area Saturday night, but were frustrated by the Free State troops, according to an official communique issued from army headquarters today. The irregulars traveled by boat from Cork to Liverpool, and thence here, intending to isolate the city by destroying the bridges, roads, railways and other means of communication. The Free State forces captured 180 of the attackers and a large quantity of arms and other war materials.

Carmen Return to Work at Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Chicago workers today found normal transportation restored after a six day strike on surface and elevated lines. Carmen who went on strike last Monday, accepted a wage reduction of 10 cents an hour, approximately 12½ per cent and retained the eight hour day and former working conditions in an agreement ratified late yesterday. The company had directed a wage reduction of approximately 17 per cent.

He was practically instantly killed, dying after being placed in the ambulance. He lived alone, his nearest relative being Orrin C. Symonds, of Danvers, a nephew.

No Change in Lawrence Strike Situation

LAWRENCE, Aug. 7.—The 20th week of the Lawrence textile strike opened this morning with practically no change in the situation. In spite of the vote of the One Big Union Saturday to violate the order of the court and picket the Pacific mills in large numbers, the picket line at the Upper and Lower Pacific and the Pacific Print Works was very small. People at the mill gates said that very few went to work in the mills.

The specially equipped plane did not get into the air at all. It swerved from its course into the beach at the gateway, nose diving into a reef and stopped with a wing and the propeller wrecked. The flier was unhurt just now badly injured the plane was had not been determined early today.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem THE OLD GRIND

(Unemployment Decreasing—News-Headline). Praise be, I am working again; It ain't such a much of a job, But take it from me, it's a pleasure to be A part of the laborin' mob, When I have been loafin' so long (I know just how long it has been). Now the kids can have shoes, and I'll say it's good news To tell you I'm workin' again.

It may be a picnic to loaf, When you have a wad that is swell, But when you go broke and your clothes are in soak, It ain't any picnic—it's hell! And when all you know is your job, And nobody wants any men— You'll see why I say, with a Hip-Hip Hooray, "I'm workin', I'm workin' again!"

Turned Down Millions to Wed Hungarian Nobleman

COUNT AND COUNTESS ZICHY

By ALEXANDER HIRMAN

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 7.—Love finds the way out of all difficulty. That's what Countess Zichy says. And she should know—for she, the former Charlotte Demarest, gave up position, family, wealth, on the eve of her marriage to a millionaire just to elope with a young Hungarian nobleman—fashioning but penniless!

That was more than two months ago. "It was pretty hard going—at first," says the countess in her apartment at one of the beach hotels here. "Sheriff came and bombarded us with judgments."

"It was pretty hard to give up a beautiful home in New York's exclusive society district and go to live in a one-room suite at a small hotel."

"It was pretty hard getting started making a living—"

"But now the rain's easy and we're the happiest couple in all the world."

Gets Ready for Work

"She started arranging her husband's evening clothes."

"He'll be up soon," she said, "to get dressed for work."

"We tried to get into the movies. We had a try-out but I guess I didn't qualify. But my husband was simply adorable."

"So we turned to the only thing we knew that we could both do well—" dancing.

"It took some nerve to make up our minds—but we just had to do it—or call on the folks for money."

So the count and his young bride danced their way into a $1000-a-week job.

"I was scared stiff the first night," Countess Zichy smiles. "But when the count put his arms around me and whispered into my ear I forgot everything else."

First Night Success

"When we finished dancing, the people applauded. We got the contract."

"They became headliners and received other offers but they didn't let their success go to their heads."

"We moved our lodgings to a smaller hotel," the young wife said. "We cut out taxis. We use jitneys. We want to economize and save money."

"Some day we'll have a big place of our own—bought with the money made by our own work. Then we'll continue to be happy—and independent."

NEW DOCTRINE OF NATURALIZATION

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 7.—According to information received from Geneva by Dr. Juan Carlos Garay, professor of history in the University of Buenos Aires, his doctrine regarding naturalization will be presented for consideration at the next meeting of the League of Nations.

Dr. Garay's doctrine provides that foreigners with more than five years' residence and possessing any trade or profession would attain citizenship automatically, although always retaining their original nationality.

The fundamentals of this doctrine have been included in the recommendations of a committee report presented to the congress of the Italian league, at present in session in Rome under the presidency of former Premier Orlando.

The Argentine Association Pro-League of Nations has been deeply interested in bringing the question before the Geneva assembly. The president of this association has just cabled Dr. Garay of his success.

LOWELL ROTARY CLUB

A. O. H. WOULD CRUSH KU KLUX BIGOTRY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 7.—Resolutions deploring the situation in Ireland and opposing the Ku Klux Klan were adopted by the national board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in annual conference yesterday. "The attitude of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in America, in the unhappy division of the Irish people," said the Irish resolution, "should be expressed in sentiments of solicitude and hope for an early cessation of the strife, and that we refrain from obstructing our opinions or criticisms lest the harsh discord be transmitted to our side of the ocean, although we are confident a stable government resting upon the will of the majority must eventually rule, and that violent rejection of the popular will is alike incompatible with prosperity at home or respect abroad."

The resolution dealing with the Ku Klux Klan reads: "The Ku Klux Klan challenge to our Catholic citizenship should be opposed by aggressive intellectual power. The history of these secret political societies in designed to disbar us from the rights guaranteed by the America we helped to found and build. This malevolence is born of ignorance, and aims at the destruction of American institutions. "All the laws of truth and justice are on our side. But, we repeat, we must organize and get all our Irish-American Catholics into our ranks—bury our people under the banner of the ancient faith of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and appeal to that tribunal which has never failed to decide a right, the tribunal which reigns in the hearts of the accessible and liberal multitude which has made America great."

John O'Day of Philadelphia was chairman of both these committees, and others composing them were Michael Delaney, Chicago, and Patrick Keane, Montreal, Canada.

ALPHEE LAROCHELLE WAS DESPONDENT

The body of the man found floating in the canal near the Hamilton mills early Saturday morning, has been identified as that of Alphee Larochelle of 18 Dane street.

On June 15 Larochelle attempted suicide by gas poisoning, but was discovered in time to save his life. His wife, after identifying the body, said that he had been in poor health for a number of weeks. She said he left home on the evening of August 2, presumably for church, and that was the last time she saw him alive.

TURKISH REFUGEES MAY BE CALLED HOME

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 7.—The decreasing birth rate in Turkey, and the gaps in the population brought about by the war, are causing serious alarm. In some villages, it is said, there have been virtually no children for several years.

As a remedy it has been proposed to bring back to the home land some of the thousands of refugees who are now in Russia and the Balkans. The transfer of a few thousand Moslems into Anatolia from Russia, it is argued, would be extremely useful to Turkey, and Russia would never miss them.

AUTOS CRASH ON CONCORD ROAD

A Studebaker and a Cole Eight crashed in a head-on collision Saturday night about 10:45 o'clock on the Concord road, near Nighthawk's corner in South Hillside. Both machines were badly damaged, but none of the six occupants was seriously hurt.

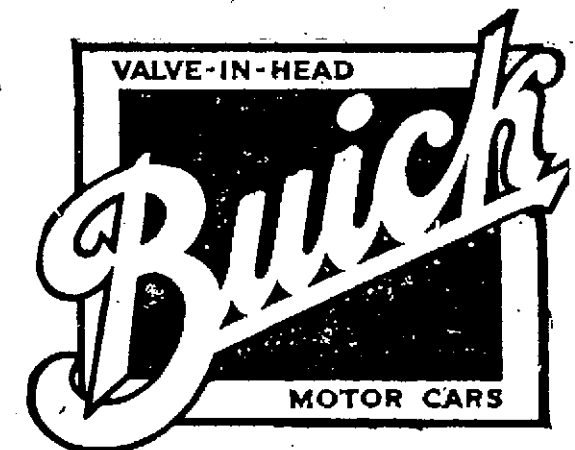

The Studebaker car was driven by Oliver W. Currier of 3 Pembroke street, Medford, who, with two passengers, was driving the Cole from Lowell to Weyland, according to the reports of the accident.

both cars were traveling at 20 miles an hour, and as they rounded a bad curve in that section of the road they crashed head on. The occupants of the cars were treated for minor injuries by Dr. M. A. Buck of Hillside.

Mrs. Kiers Attempts Suicide After Taking Last Look at Bier of Husband

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—With a long heartrending look at the bier of her husband, Mrs. Ada Kiers turned, ran to a window in the rear of her apartment in Brooklyn and cast herself headlong to the street.

Mrs. Kiers had been constantly by the side of her husband's body since his death and had knelt for an hour at a time beside the casket. Relatives seeing the increase in her nervousness, had been watching but were unable to prevent her act.

The funeral services for her husband were held shortly after Mrs. Kiers was removed unconscious from a fractured skull.

Public Service Board

When the board of public service meets tomorrow afternoon for the approval of July bills, it will have for its further consideration bills totalling $12,519.64, presented by the Peabody Motor Car Co. for two 5-ton trucks, now in use by the street department.

The bills have occasioned more or less discussion at meetings of the council and budget and audit commission and a hearing on them was held in connection with the meeting of the first named body last Thursday night. They still stand unapproved, but may pass muster tomorrow before the board that first must approve them.

At tomorrow's meeting, also, bids will be opened by repair of slabs on Central bridge.

Municipal Movies

The program of pictures for the "municipal movies" to be given on four parks this week by the park commission includes Wallace Reid in "Too Much Speed" and "Don't Waken," a Mack Sennett comedy. The program will be given on Monday evening at the South common, Tuesday evening at the North common, Wednesday evening at Washington park and Thursday evening at Alken street playground, in each case, weather permitting.

FURTHER ADVANCES FOR FREE STATERS

DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The national army troops are successfully pushing their campaign in southwestern Ireland both from the Limerick sector and from the region of Tralee, where they landed last week in a turning movement, according to reports from the fighting front.

The banking parties from the coast are pushing inland, and the fall of Listowel Saturday was a result. The irregulars retreated thence in a southerly direction to Abbeyfeale, County Limerick. Before leaving Listowel they burned the barracks, the workhouse and the courthouse.

In the Limerick area, the fall of Kilmallock, Adair and several other places held by the irregulars seemed to have put them to rout in both east and west Limerick. Adair was taken after a few shells had hit their headquarters in a local hotel. The Free State troops had one killed and three wounded.

After further fighting on Sunday, the nationals still advancing, took Rathkeale, Broadford, Askeaton and Ballinacorney.

HANDKERCHIEF

LINEN IN VOGUE

Handkerchief linen, and especially pink handkerchief linen, is having a sudden vogue for midsummer wear. It is sheer and cool and lends itself to many different styles. White handkerchief linen embroidered in colors is also very much liked.

India prints are another of the season's fancies—these are Indian designs printed on either linen or cotton and brought by the yard or they may be a genuine Indian print that was large enough to make a blouse or slip-on frock.

Pale gray and beige are the most popular shades for silk frocks during these hot days and they are shown in crepe, Roman, Canton crepe and crepe de chine.

Georgette is also seen, especially in models like that illustrated with long, narrow tucks or pleats to accentuate the straight-lined style.

Pitched Ten No-Hit, No-Run Games

SERGEANT JOE DUFF

By BOB DORMAN
FOURTH BRUNING, Ga., Aug. 7.—"Oh, hum," says Sergeant Joe Duff, "what's a no-hit game or so?"

Sergeant Duff's record shows he has pitched 10 no-hit, no-run games during the course of a pitching career that extends over 25 years.

His last record-breaking pitching feat was performed recently when he was 52 years old.

He is the star pitcher of the Infantry School Detachment (white) team, commanded by Captain Samuel L. Buracker, stationed at Fort Benning, and since he joined the team three years ago the record shows 118 games won and 15 lost. They have won the army pennant three years.

Duff has piled up a pitching record in the army that anyone might be proud of.

He has won 433 games and lost 75. Included in that is two seasons with the Cotton States league, when he was on, first in 1902 and 1903.

Sergeant Duff believes the wholesome outdoor life and exercises of the army have enabled him to retain the youthful vigor that the average man loses much earlier in civilian life.

When asked when he would quit pitching, he answered: "When I leave the army, and my time isn't up for a long while yet."

Shoe Cutters Strike at Lynn

LYNN, Aug. 7.—About 150 cutters employed in shoe factories here quit work today declaring themselves dissatisfied with the wage adjustment recently made by the mayor's arbitration committee. #### Fourth Week Starts

Today marks the fourth week of the strike at the Massachusetts mill, the 26th week of the local strike. It was just 26 weeks ago today that the strikes were declared on at the Hamilton and Fry Street mills.

The textile workers' strategy board met this morning and reported that the strikers all along the line were being outmaneuvered than ever to win their points.

The board sent a committee to call on the mayor relative to "Pleasant day" which is to be held next Saturday. The money obtained from the sale of the bonds will go toward the strikers' funds. This day is to be followed by the combined efforts of all the unions.

The mayor granted a permit for the tag-day and also a permit for representatives of the unions to address the people on the streets during the day. It is planned to have the strikers march with the union address groups in different sections of the city, especially during the last few hours of the drive, the addresses to be followed by the distribution of rosebuds.

Organizer Thomas J. Ryan left this afternoon for Lawrence where he will be stationed for two days. Wednesday he intends to visit Ware to look after the interests of the strikers in that town.

Although the weather was not productive of a good crowd a fair sized audience turned out on the South common last night for the mass meeting. Sarah A. Conway, treasurer of the United Textile Workers of America, was the principal speaker. She told of the general strike situation throughout different parts of New England and expressed the belief that the strikers would win eventually and that their determination along these lines was growing every day. Other speakers to address the gathering included William Starr of Manchester, N. H., William V. Sprague, of the Street Carriers' Union, and John Hadley, president of the committee, who made a few remarks as presiding officer.

A meeting of all the presidents of all union crafts was held yesterday afternoon in Trades and Labor hall, and all of them pledged continued support to the textile strike. Another meeting of this body will be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at which time more definite plans will be made for "Rosebud Day."

CITY GOES INTO OPERA PRODUCING AND MAKES IT PAY

(By N.E.A. Service)

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7.—When most cities go into the opera business there is sure to be a follow-up of financial deficit and consequent citywide wailing.

St. Louis is not only regularly in the opera business but is running the entertainment at a big financial profit, and in addition is providing free entertainment for 1700 persons who otherwise could not afford to attend shows.

In the world's largest open-air theater, this municipality has, for four years every night during two summer months, entertained from 6000 to 9000 people with good music and clean fun. It has made light opera, of the best class, an art for all the people. It has provided a free school to which St. Louis is indebted for a chorus of singers and dancers that the best of private impresarios can well envy.

"Does it pay? You bet!" says Mayor Henry W. Kiel of the Municipal Theatre association.

"Does it pay?" echoes Public Welfare Director Nelson Cunliff. "I should say it does! Just look at this picture and see for yourself."

How it Started

But does it pay in dollars and cents? It does, indeed. It wasn't for financial profit that it was founded, but it has done so well in that respect that the management has been puzzled once or twice to decide what to do with accumulated funds.

"Material greatness isn't everything in the life of a city any more than in the life of an individual," remarked a group of leading St. Louis business men to one another four years ago. "There are entertainment and encouragement of the arts, and mental improvement to be considered, too."

Thereupon they formed the Municipal Theatre association, established the present beautiful open-air auditorium in the cool setting of Forest park and proceeded to produce a series of high-grade musical entertainments.

There was a deficit at first but the backers pocketed the loss cheerfully. The next season the venture did better financially. Last year there was a profit of $24,000.

Have Free Seats

"What shall we do with all this money?" asked the surprised management, for the association's charter requires the re-investment of such funds in the enterprise itself. Part of the $24,000 was spent for new seats and other theatre needs, but a goodly sum still remained.

"Let's spend it in training our own chorus, and develop finally a Free Municipal School of Light Opera," someone suggested.

And this is what's being done now. During the present eight-week season, eight operas and operettas have been given at a cost of approximately $20,000 each, and when the books are audited a profit of some $40,000 will be shown.

Municipal opera audiences are as democratic as any crowds at a baseball game. For those who could not attend otherwise, there are 1700 free seats. Between the acts the music lovers eat crackerjack, drink soda pop, discuss the performances and the artists, and get acquainted.

Certainly, nowhere else in America and probably nowhere else in the world, is good music available free, or at the most popular of prices, for such numbers of people, by an organization which actually has money left over for its own development after paying its own way.

has been married five times and is the father of 30 children—15 of them living—and grandfather and great-grandfather of more children than he can remember.

His Flapper Views

"These flappers, what do you think of them, Papa Auguste?" he was asked as a crowd of short-skirted girls eddied around the ancient machine.

"Flappers?" The centenarian looked puzzled. "Chickens! Les poulets! Les petites mam'zelles!"

"They look like a bunch of Indians to me," he said in French.

The 92-year-old daughter added: "In my time we girls needed not such a performance to win our husbands."

"They do it to get a man, of course," said Papa Auguste. "Women haven't changed. I've been watching them 100 years."

His daughter said she didn't think short skirts, short hair, cigarettes and votes were necessary for women to catch husbands.

"Me, I don't need show a yard of leg to get a husband!" she said.

Didn't Know 'Twas Hey

In spite of his 111 years Papa Auguste hadn't heard about prohibition. "So that is what the lawmakers do now," he said with disgust. "I am against a law like that. I drink nothing but my Cajun coffee myself. Just to say another man cannot have the wine and beer if he wants it, that is hotelle!"

Papa Auguste remembers hearing his father tell of Andrew Jackson's victory over the British not far from their plantation in 1815, when he was four years old. He lives there still, driving his driver about the place as he directs the farm work.

"Most Contemptible Coward and Brute"

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Denounced as the "most contemptible coward and brute" the court had ever seen, Harry McCauley was sentenced to six months for having beaten his 13-year-old daughter over the head and shoulders with a clothes line until he raised huge welts because she failed to do a task quickly enough. McCauley, who is built like a professional strong man, was told by the magistrate that he would like to make the sentence six years.

AGENT MITCHELL SAYS ONLY FEW OPERATIVES OUT ON STRIKE

Declares That Only 55 of the 2000 Working When Strike Was Declared Are With the Strikers—Strike Committee Chairman Sets Number of Massachusetts Mill Strikers at Between 500 and 600

There are just 55 people out on strike at this mill. By that I mean there are that many of the 2000 that were working here at the time of the wage reduction. This is the statement given to The Sun this morning by Agent William A. Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills.

When asked if it were true that people had reported this morning seeking jobs and had been turned away, Mr. Mitchell answered in the affirmative, and added that the reason the

WANTED ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Boston Police Hunt Prince de Bourbon, Wanted on Suspicion of Bigamy

Check Up Reports That Four Women Had Become Wives of the Man Sought

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Prince Louis Henri de Bourbon, who left a glittering Russian uniform behind in his New York apartment when the police there wanted to find out whether he was not, in fact, Harold Schwarm, a New Britain, Conn., factory hand, was being sought today by Boston police officers on suspicion of bigamy.

Officers were at work checking up reports that four women, three of them in New England, had become wives of the man at various times in a career that included a job as a dishwasher at the Taunton insane hospital.

The reports which the police are investigating say the first wife was Miss Ethel Abetz of New Britain, Conn., whom the "baron" is alleged to have married in Hartford, in 1913. The second wife is said to have been Miss Catherine Lynn of this city, a department store cashier.

The third is reported to have been a nurse in the Taunton insane hospital and the fourth a Brooklyn, N. Y., girl, who was employed at Metropolitan hospital, Welfare Island, N. Y.

Granted Stif in New York

NEW YORK, August 7.—Prince Louis Henri de Bourbon, who left a glittering Russian uniform behind in his New York apartment when the police there wanted to find out whether he was not, in fact, Harold Schwarm, a New Britain, Conn., factory hand, was being sought today by Boston police officers on suspicion of bigamy.

The policeman who made the arrest alleged the prince tried to run him through with his trusty sword because he (the policeman) presumed to question him on suspicion of bigamy.

The prince lived, for the purpose of quelling a disturbance.

Magistrate Simpson, before whom he was arraigned, however, released the prince and gave the policeman a sharp talking to, for he then ordered the royal sword returned, and the prince left court with a princely air.

The pretender to the French throne disappeared Saturday afternoon, pausing only to take the Italian wolfhound, which he described as a present from the pope—after a detective had visited him to inquire whether it were true as was reported that he was Harold Schwarm of New Britain, Conn.

A few hours later the princess described by her spouse as a prominent society girl, also dropped out of the picture, leaving behind in the Bourbon apartment only Joe Terry, an ex-servant who had acted as secretary to his highness, and Chestow, the prince's royal monkey.

President Harding Calls on Striking Shopmen to Return and Asks Roads to Assign Them to Work

TEXT OF PRES. HARDING'S LATEST PROPOSAL TO END STRIKE

WASHINGTON, August 7.—The text of the telegram sent to Mr. Jewell by President Harding today, follows:

I have your communication in which you and your associates, speaking for the striking railway shopmen, pledged your agreement to the proposals which I submitted to the railway executives and your organization for the settlement of the pending railroad strike. Inasmuch as I was acting as a voluntary mediator, seeking the earliest possible settlement, I confess to you the same disappointment which I have conveyed to the executives that the terms were not unanimously accepted. As you are already aware, the executives of the carriers declare their inability to restore seniority rights unconditionally. It is exceedingly gratifying, however, that in responding to the terms which were proposed that both the

Sheriffs Find Joliet, Ill., Authorities Unable to Cope With Rioting in R. R. Yards

Railroad Agent and Striker Killed—Sheriff Seriously Wounded

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 7.—Rioting in the railroad yards here today resulted in the killing of Special Agent Philip Redd of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern road and an unknown striker and the serious wounding of Sheriff James Newkirk.

The trouble is believed to have started over the shooting of a striker last Saturday.

The sheriff's office at 8 o'clock called for state troops after it was decided that local authorities were unable to cope with the situation.

RUN OUT OF COLORADO

Wm. L. Foster, Said to Be Steel Strike Leader Railroaded by Gen. Hamrock

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 7.—William Z. Foster, who, according to Adjutant General P. J. Hamrock of the Colorado Rangers, is a former steel worker, who took an active part in steel strikes in 1919, was run out of Denver and Colorado yesterday by General Hamrock's order. Foster, General Hamrock declared, is the alleged president of a "soviet Russia" society the correct title of which Gen. Hamrock did not know.

Federal agents, detectives and rangers had been looking for Foster for several days. It was said, but when he arrived on a train from Salt Lake City he eluded them and registered at a hotel. Gen. Hamrock said Foster was disguised. The man was located at the hotel and his suit case which the authorities said contained I. W. W. and Bolshevik literature was confiscated. Foster was taken under protest to an east bound train.

Gen. Hamrock said he had been informed that a secret meeting of those interested in the society was to have been held here last night. He declared that Foster is one of the most dangerous men in the country and that he had been ordered to move on because "he is undesirable."

WILL EXTEND VOTING PERIOD

At a meeting of the board of election commissioners early this afternoon, it was decided to lengthen the voting period at the state primaries on September 12 by one hour. Under the new arrangement the polls will open at 11 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m. Previously it was tentatively decided

GENERAL ALARM AND TWO ALARM FIRES SUNDAY EVENING

Joseph Mullin Coal Company's Stable in Gorham Street Threatened—General Alarm for Fire in Market Street Fruit Store—Passing Locomotive Gives First Alarm—Families Rush to Street in Night Attire

Barely had the firemen succeeded in subduing the flames which completely gutted the Joseph Mullin Coal company stable in upper Gorham street, the first alarm for which sounded at a little after 10.30 o'clock last night, and a second immediately afterward, when a general alarm from the box at Hanover and Market streets sent them tearing to a fire which started in the Liberty Fruit store at 459 Market street, conducted by Harry Fitzpatrick. The store is on the

NEW VOTING PRECINCTS TO BE USED AT STATE PRIMARIES

Additional Voting Districts Raise Total Number of Precincts to 31—Public Service Board Meeting—Last Week for City Health Camp—Program for Municipal Movies

Three new voting precincts, in Wards 7, 8 and 9, will be used for the first time at the state primaries on September 12. These additional voting districts raise the total number of precincts in the city to 31 and it is hoped that a great deal of congestion will be alleviated.

These new precincts, named 8-4, 7-4 and 9-4 will be so situated in the three wards as to practically halve the registration of the largest precinct as now constituted. The one in Ward 8, for instance, will be situated on the corner of Foster and Middlesex streets and will gain its registration from part of old Precinct 1, which will still retain its polling booth at Marlborough and Westford streets.

Precinct 4 of Ward 7 will be made up of residents of upper Moody street and its polling booth will be established in the headquarters of the Paw-

Typhoon Death Toll Now 10,000

HONG KONG, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Casualties in the typhoon and tidal wave which last Wednesday swept the port of Swatow, 250 miles north of here, now are estimated at 10,000. Another British steamer, in addition to the two previously reported ashore, was bound from Hong Kong to Shanghai when she met the fury of the typhoon and was wrecked, but her passengers were saved.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED OUTING FOR CHILDREN

Three Men Accused of Having Defrauded Government Out of Million

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Indictments were returned today by the special grand jury investigating alleged war frauds against Ernest C. Morse, former director of sales of the war department; Everly M. Davis, president of the E. M. Davis Chemical Co., of New York, and Alexander W. Phillips associated with Davis. The three men, all of whom live in New York, were charged in the indictments with having defrauded the government out of more than a million dollars in connection with the sale of the war built plant of the old Hickory Powder Plant near Nashville, Tenn.

The indictment against Morse is the second to be returned by the special grand jury which was impeached by the action of Attorney General Daugherty to investigate alleged war frauds. The first indictment handed July 13, resulted from an inquiry into the disposition of surplus lumber after the war and nine others were indicted in the lumber case.

Mr. Morse is now president of the Foreign Sales Corporation and is believed to be in Warsaw, Poland. The indictment returned today, efficiently charged felonious conspiracy, combination, confederation and agreement to have the Nashville Industrial Corporation purchase the old Hickory Powder plant for a sum greatly less than it was reasonably worth.

VETERANS' TAG DAY NETS $903.27

David F. Caddell, chairman of the tag day committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, reported today that Saturday's solicitations amounted to $903.27. The money was counted today at a local bank. More than 130 collection boxes were used and the sum secured in most satisfactory to those in charge. In view of the fact that the vast majority of contributions were of silver.

Birds Return to White House Grounds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—By direction of President Harding, the White House police detail has taken the song birds of the grounds under its protection and made war on three black crows convicted of having routed the songsters. The president noticed some time ago that the song birds seem to be leaving and ordered a police investigation. The crow marauders were detected and a marksman called in who killed them off after stalking them for three days. Now the song birds are coming back.

AID CENTRAL STATES

Vast Traffic and River Control System Under Consideration

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 7.—Stimulated by important steel interests in the Pittsburgh and Wheeling districts and by agricultural and commercial factors in the middlewest, the movement for a waterway to the Gulf of Mexico is attracting the attention of city governments and civic organizations along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Steel companies are showing their practical interest by shipping as much as possible of their products in barges to southern points; farmers are urging the creation of a trunk line river system and city councils are passing resolutions urging their congressional representation to support any government movement that the project may have. Already the councils of Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Louisville, Parkersburg and Cairo have taken action, while resolutions are pending before the councils of Wheeling, Cincinnati, Evansville, Memphis, Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis. Chambers of Commerce in Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Parkersburg, Louisville, Evansville, Memphis and New Orleans have passed similar resolutions.

The project is based on plans prepared by the corps of engineers of the United States army calling for the completion of the Ohio river slack water system which is an open river below Evansville, deepening the channel of the Mississippi to six feet between Minneapolis and St. Louis; dredging an eight-foot channel in the Mississippi between St. Louis and Cairo; the maintenance of a nine-foot channel in the Mississippi from Cairo to New Orleans, and the opening of the Missouri to navigation between St. Louis and Kansas City. These plans when carried out, the army engineers say, would give a 2000 mile water highway between Pittsburgh and New Orleans and one of equal length between Minneapolis and New Orleans.

Projects for a canal between Lake Erie and the Ohio river are now being urged from Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and other points. Congress has already made some provisions for these waterways and their proponents are urging speedy decision as to the best route and commencement of the work.

Co-ordinate with these river navigation proposals are projects for storing flood waters to be released in periods of dry weather, thus affording protection from flood damages and assuring stream navigation in times of low water. In part, for this purpose, Pennsylvania has permitted the United States government to enter and purchase cut-over timberlands of the federal forest of the Allegheny river, one of the principal feeders of the Ohio. The territory thus set aside is to be known as the Allegheny national forest, and will be supervised and managed exactly as forest reserves in the far west. One million acres have been allotted to this reservation, of which about 500,000 are now being taken over by the federal government.

Hydro-electric power projects in the Allegheny and Blue Ridge mountains of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky, are also under way which it is anticipated by men experienced in river navigation and flood control, will do their part toward decreasing flood risks and assuring full time navigability of the rivers. One of these projects is situated on the Clarion river, a tributary of the Allegheny, in Pennsylvania and is already under construction. It proposes to impound all the water of the river in the season of fall frosts, and after using it for generating power, permit it to flow out in dry weather at a given rate per day which, it is stated, will materially benefit water transportation down the Allegheny and Ohio rivers.

During the past year the Ohio river has seen the sudden development of a heavy tonnage of steel products transported from Pittsburgh and Wheeling in steel barges, to points along the Mississippi and Ohio for local use and for transshipment by rail into western and southwestern states. The Jones & Laughlin Steel company has been regularly sending out a load of barges once a month, each transporting many thousands of tons of its products at considerable economies in transportation costs. Other large producers of steel have been making use of the Ohio and Mississippi in like manner.

Incident to the general scheme are proposals from Ohio river points and from Chicago and other Illinois cities for connections to be made between the Great Lakes and the river system of the Mississippi basin. Such connections, it is stated, would give this country a system of waterways as freight carriers which could not be duplicated in any other country in the world. Waterways and commercial connections of this kind are urged by a canal 61 miles in length be cut between La Salle and Joliet, which would connect the canalized Illinois river with the Chicago drainage canal and make a direct connection from the lakes to the gulf, over which, it is claimed, great tonnages of freight consisting of manufactured, agricultural and raw products would keep moving the year around.

The whole scheme, according to close observers, is a combination of shipping, agricultural, food control, water power and other interests to procure for this country a system of water freight which could control basins, forest preserves and power producing systems which will result in big deductions in the costs of transportation, distribution, food losses and power rates. As the national system of rivers in the Mississippi basin now exists, it is pointed out, there is either too much or too little water in them, according to the season. Installations which will impound the excess water and ease it out when required will result in making these streams powerful agencies for distribution of commodities in conjunction with the national railways and the national highways, the whole creating a vast distribution system.

LOWELL MAN RESCUED

Samuel Friberg Among Five Saved From Drowning at Hampton Beach

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Aug. 7.—There was a series of rescues from drowning on the beach below the Casino late yesterday afternoon, and each was witnessed by thousands, the crowd yesterday being upward of 50,000, the largest of the season thus far.

Five male bathers were saved from watery graves, and two others, slightly affected by cramps, were assisted ashore.

Henry Foran, Romeo Lawrence and Jean Eger, who came here from Manchester to spend the day, were in the water shortly after 4 o'clock and got caught in the undertow or sand pockets caused by the tide. Lawrence and Eger got caught first and Foran went to their aid in response to cries. All of them got ashore by volunteer lifeguards in charge of P. H. Quinlan of Needham, Mass. Volunteer Lifeguard Ernest Bess of Exeter threw a life-line out to the men, but the life broke and it was some seconds before another one was available.

Just before 5 o'clock Samuel Friberg of Lowell, stopping for a vacation

on J street, was rescued from the same place on the beach as the three Manchester men. Friberg's companion saved him, but he was having difficulty in doing so and a call was sent to the Hampton Beach Coast-guard station. Capt. Myers and crew responded within 10 minutes by placing their boat on the back of an automobile.

Friberg's companion was bringing him ashore just as the coastguard men placed their boat in the water. Friberg is said to be a good swimmer. He said he got caught in the undertow.

A third man, whose name could not be learned, was rescued and two others near the same spot.

Included in yesterday's throng was Jack Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, who were on route from Worcester to Aroostook county, Me., where the champion will go in training.

There was one auto accident. Mrs. B. Roston of 15 Williams street, Salem, was knocked down near the Ashworth by a machine driven by Charles Harrison of Hampton Falls. Mrs. Roston sustained bruises and a severe shock. Harrison was questioned and exonerated.

Grandfather's Millions Make Her Most Eligible Young Woman of Southwest

ANNE BURNETT, GRANDDAUGHTER OF TEXAS' RICHEST MAN, AND TOM BURNETT, HIS SON

(By N.E.A. Service)
FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 7.—"Most eligible" of Texas are the lovely building heiresses of Mrs. Anne Burnett. For she has suddenly become the most eligible young woman in the southwest.

There are some of the things Mrs. Burnett owns:

Three great stock ranches whose area is more than half as large as all Rhode Island.

Two skyscrapers in Fort Worth. A home in Fort Worth that cost $100,000.

Liberty bonds valued at $200,000. Stocks and bonds that bring her entire holdings to $15,000,000.

It is all hers because her grandfather, Capt. S. B. Burnett, regarded as the wealthiest man in Texas, died recently and left her the bulk of his estate. And he cut off his only surviving son, Tom L. Burnett, with $25,000 a year.

A provision of the will was that Tom, himself a wealthy rancher, should get nothing if he tries to break the will. Administrators say there will be no contest.

Tom was recently divorced from his wife, formerly Lucille Mulhall, who with her father took part in radio shows.

Captain Burnett was a Texas cowboy, who fought Indians and hunted buffalo. When he died at 73 he was a banker, rancher and capitalist. He started on borrowed money and built up his holdings until he owned three ranches covering 100,000 acres, stocked with high bred cattle. Some of the biggest Texas oil wells were drilled on his property.

ed train, and come to rest across the treble, steel girders bent around its forward end and splinters of what had once been a car compressed into space about ten feet before it, against a coach which accordingly was injured.

Coroner Elders promised a thorough investigation of circumstances which caused the disaster, the worst train wreck in the history of this part of the country. The graves of both trains were exhumed by the coroner to give their versions of the accident.

Dead Engineer Blamed

Officials of the road, including Assistant General Manager Cannon, declared yesterday that the black signals were found to be in order after the crash occurred, and all were unanimous in their assertion that Matt Glenn, dead engineer, of the fast train which ploughed through four coaches of the local train near this station, did not heed a warning signal.

Miraculous Escapes

Tales of many miraculous escapes were repeated, mingled with stories of pain and horror. Stories of young girls offering their assistance in carrying the injured and dead, were numerous. Some were seen hurrying from one victim to another bandaging their injuries, washing their wounds and giving what assistance they could.

First Mark Against Record

The general manager's statement also said that Engineer Glenn, who was 57, had been in the service of the company for 25 years and that the wreck which cost his life was the first mark against his record in that time.

Four coaches are still in the ravine and wrecking crews had been unable to reach the dead under these cars early yesterday afternoon.

It is not known whether any persons were killed.

The cries of the injured had to go unheeded in many cases. Mothers begged for news of their babies and children and for their parents. One 11-month-old child, unable to tell her name, was found a mile from the scene of the disaster, asking for "Mama." A woman from St. Louis took her in charge.

San Fate of One Family

One of the saddest scenes reported was that of the De Gonia family of St. Louis. Four of the family of six were killed, and the father is reported dying in a St. Louis hospital. Three of the five children, Ralph, 12, Melvin, 9, and Robert, 11 months, lay dead to the right of their father before he could be removed, and Mrs. De Gonia lay dead at his left.

Mr. De Gonia in his death clasp his infant son to his breast, repeating between groans of pain, "Thank God, babies, we're all saved."

Knowing that four of his family had been killed.

In the confusion several bodies were hurried aboard the relief trains before being checked, leaving the number of dead uncertain. Many could not be identified because their effects had been scattered over such a wide area.

The railroad tracks parallel the Mississippi river, and the treble on which the disaster occurred spans the river where it enters the state. As a result, a report was current that a number of bodies were washed into the Mississippi, but there was no way of verifying this report.

It was hampered by lack of light. The village is without electricity and the rescue workers and morbidly curious made their way among the mass of twisted steel and crumpled wooden coaches by the aid of kerosene torches and candles.

Thousands of persons along the scene yesterday and today were blocked for three miles. Dr. Hull said bodies were found 300 feet from the scene of the accident. One body was buried waist deep in a bog. Dr. Geo. Elders, coroner of Jackson County, said a thorough investigation of the accident will be made.

Appalling Horrors

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 7.—Appalling horrors of the Sulphur Springs train wreck were brought to the homes of sons buried under the wreckage are still alive.

Fast Train Hit Local

Train No. 4, a fast passenger vestibuled steel train, running at full speed, crashed into No. 32, a local, composed of five wooden day coaches, a baggage and an express car, as the engine was taking on water with the coaches stretching back on a trestle over Glass creek.

The impact hurled two of the local coaches down a 50-foot embankment, sending the Mississippi and telegraphed four other coaches, crushing a number of passengers to death in their seats.

Both trains were behind time, the fast passenger, running from Fort Worth, Tex., to St. Louis, carrying 180 passengers, and the local, 100 persons.

Engineer Glenn was killed when he jumped from his cab just before the crash. Edward Tinsley, also of St. Louis, fireman of No. 4, who remained at his post, was injured seriously.

Failed to Obey Order

Engineer Glenn shortly before arriving in Sulphur Springs, received orders "on the run" to pull over on a siding at Cliff Cave, 10 miles north of here, to allow "Sunshine Special No. 1," en route from St. Louis to Texas points, to pass. John Cannon, assistant manager of the road, explained the engineer failed to heed the signal because he apparently was reading these orders when he passed the block. The orders were found near his body.

Glenn appeared on the scene shortly after the crash and walked dead and dying. Only one was arrested. He said he was William Hall of St. Louis. Several pieces of wearing apparel taken from the victims were found on his person and a bible was in his coat. One hole, it was said, had been the property of Rev. V. A. Piusley of Desoto, one of those killed.

The dead and injured were spread over an area of several city blocks and chicken crates, automobile cushions, baggage and the railroad tracks constituted their couches.

"This little village of 150 inhabitants was unable to care for the injured and they, along with the dead, were taken to St. Louis and Desoto.

Only One Doctor on Hand

Dr. W. W. Hull was the only physician administering to the injured for several hours until relief trains arrived.

"Had I had some assistance we might have saved some of the dying," Dr. Hull told a representative of the Associated Press. "At one time I was trying to treat 25 persons simultaneously."

The cries of the injured had to go unheeded in many cases. Mothers begged for news of their babies and children and for their parents. One 11-month-old child, unable to tell her name, was found a mile from the scene of the disaster, asking for "Mama." A woman from St. Louis took her in charge.

San Fate of One Family

One of the saddest scenes reported was that of the De Gonia family of St. Louis. Four of the family of six were killed, and the father is reported dying in a St. Louis hospital. Three of the five children, Ralph, 12, Melvin, 9, and Robert, 11 months, lay dead to the right of their father before he could be removed, and Mrs. De Gonia lay dead at his left.

Mr. De Gonia in his death clasp his infant son to his breast, repeating between groans of pain, "Thank God, babies, we're all saved."

Knowing that four of his family had been killed.

In the confusion several bodies were hurried aboard the relief trains before being checked, leaving the number of dead uncertain. Many could not be identified because their effects had been scattered over such a wide area.

The railroad tracks parallel the Mississippi river, and the treble on which the disaster occurred spans the river where it enters the state. As a result, a report was current that a number of bodies were washed into the Mississippi, but there was no way of verifying this report.

It was hampered by lack of light. The village is without electricity and the rescue workers and morbidly curious made their way among the mass of twisted steel and crumpled wooden coaches by the aid of kerosene torches and candles.

Thousands of persons along the scene yesterday and today were blocked for three miles. Dr. Hull said bodies were found 300 feet from the scene of the accident. One body was buried waist deep in a bog. Dr. Geo. Elders, coroner of Jackson County, said a thorough investigation of the accident will be made.

Radio Indispensable to Farmers For Broadcasting of Latest Market News

HERSHEL H. JONES, PIONEER IN BROADCASTING CROP AND MARKET REPORTS.

Radio sets are becoming as indispensable as tractors to the farmers, of the United States.

Through these they are able to keep close tabs on the daily market conditions for the sale of their crops. This information, of almost interest to every farmer, is being disseminated by radio by the U. S. bureau of markets and crop estimates.

This service was begun experimentally on Dec. 15, 1920. It has developed so rapidly that, at the present time, the national market news is being distributed not only by the federal bureau but by state departments, air mail depots, universities and many private broadcasting stations throughout the country.

The result is almost instantaneous news of the various changes in the market situations and a greater distribution of this information even to points where communication by mail, telegraph or railroad could be considerably slower.

Pioneer One of the men who had much to do toward the inauguration of radio broadcasting of market information was Hershel H. Jones of New York. At the time of its adoption by the federal government he was director of the bureau of foods and markets in New York. He saw the wonderful possibilities of radio in this service and was not slow in interesting state and national authorities.

When officials of the bureau of markets saw the success they were having with this service, they made plans for expansion. They first won the consent of the postoffice department to use the air mail radio service for broadcasting crop and market reports. Then the agricultural colleges took it up and later other universities and private stations consented to relay the reports to farmers in their districts.

These reports are sent out on wave lengths of 2300, 3000 and 4000 meters. This, it is explained, is because of the greater transmitting range afforded by the use of the longer waves and less interference. For this reason, the private broadcasting stations transmitting on wave lengths of 360 meters, are extremely useful in relaying the messages from Washington to the farmers in their localities.

Code Reports

Although telephone communication is being used to some extent, the market service still transmits a large part of its information by radio telegraph. This, because a code can be used which allows a more rapid transmission than otherwise. Only certain kinds of market information are sent out by code, however.

Several states, however, have installed radio broadcasting equipment by which the reports received in code form are transmitted by radiophone for the benefit of producers.

A number of states have established information centers for transmitting the broadcast information through other channels to farmers who have no radio receivers. Progressive agricultural counties, also, in connection with farmers' organizations, have installed radio receiving equipment.

SHOOTS WIFE AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

BANGOR, Me., Aug. 7.—Mildred Jordan, aged 43 years, lived at the point of death in a farm house in Orrington Centre as the result of an attempt last night at murder by her husband, Edward Jordan, aged 44 years, who also is very near death, he having made an attempt at suicide after shooting his wife. The couple had been separated for about two years and the tragedy followed numerous threats against his wife's life made by the husband. Jealousy is supposed to have been Jordan's motive.

NEW HOOK-UP TO HELP CUT OUT STATIC

BY PAUL F. GODLEY

America's Foremost Radio Authority. Aside from those very expensive, elaborate and bulky methods used by the high-power trans-Atlantic stations—all of which are entirely out of the question for the smaller amateur stations—the best method of reducing static is shown in the diagram.

Here two three-element vacuum tubes are connected to act as two-element tubes, the grid and the plate of the tubes being connected together. The tubes are arranged with their controlling batteries in parallel, but in such way as to be in opposition to each other in the circuit.

Tube A is adjusted for maximum sensitivity on a given signal in the usual manner, while the tube B is adjusted to respond only to signals which are fairly strong.

When weak signals are incoming, the tube B is inoperative. Its presence may be ignored so far as its effect on the incoming signal is concerned.

But when intense oscillations are produced either by loud crashes of static or by heavy signals from a nearby interfering station, B becomes operative immediately. It rectifies the currents in the same way as tube A and almost to the same extent, and, since the tubes are opposed, annuls the effect of the loud signals in the phone receivers.

This method is known as current limiting.

It will not prevent the reception of static, but it will prevent the reception of static signals of greater strength than the signal which is being listened to. Thus the ear is not temporarily paralyzed by the great crashes of sound.

In actual practice, both on music and telegraphic signals, the method has been used for many years with considerable success.

WAS INJURED IN BALL GAME

A painful bruise on the head, sustained while playing ball on the Woodward avenue grounds yesterday, caused the removal of James Brogan, 19-year-old son of Patrick Brogan of 38 Second avenue, to the Lowell General hospital, where his condition was reported as much improved today.

The accident happened in the first inning of a game between the Pawtucket River and the St. Anne's. Brogan was at bat when a member of his own team tried to steal home as the opposing pitcher wound up. In the mixup which followed, the batter was forcibly hit on the side of the head, rendering him unconscious.

The victim is well known locally, having played on the high school baseball team a few years ago. For the past two years he has been attending Boston college, where he also counts a host of friends.

TALKED ON "THE CHRISTIAN WEALTH"

Rev. Myron D. Fuller, a former resident of this city, conducted the Sunday morning services at the Pawtucket Congregational church in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Arthur G. Lyon. He preached a very interesting sermon on "The Christian's Wealth."

Rev. Mr. Fuller is a brother of Mrs. Arthur G. Bellard of this city, and since his departure from Lowell has occupied important pulpits in Connecticut and New York state. A short time ago Mr. Fuller, who is a former pastor of the Draught Center Congregational church, gave an address at the "Old Home Sunday" held by that church. At present he has no settled pastorate and plans to remain in Lowell for a short while. Next Sunday he will preach in Chelmsford Centre.

ST. RAILWAY WILL ISSUE NEW TICKETS

Beginning Wednesday, Aug. 9, the 50-cent street railway ticket, containing 8 rides will be withdrawn, and a 11 ticket, good for 16 rides, will be substituted. The rate of exchange is changed in the use of this ticket, but the initial cost of the ticket will be $1. This change was announced last night by Manager Thomas Lees of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway.

The new ticket can be divided into two parts so that the purchaser can detach one-half for his own personal use and give the other to anyone whom he wishes. The idea has met with great success in Fall River where it has been in operation for some time.

The present 50 cent ticket will be acknowledged until used up.

WILL WALK AGAIN FOR FIRST TIME IN 39 YEARS

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A positive promise that on Aug. 16 he will be able to walk for the first time in 39 years was the joyful news that Frederick W. Birge, a 63-year-old Middlebury, Vt., farmer, heard yesterday at the hospital for the ruptured and crippled. On that date, surgeons said, a plaster cast, extending from his feet to the shoulder blades, will be removed, temporary braces adjusted and he will walk. Birge, crippled with infantile paralysis at the age of 14 and his legs contracted in a sitting position, has undergone a series of operations at the hospital since Dec. 10 last. Operations have been performed on both hips and both ankles and his legs stretched and straightened.

Surgeons who have followed the case declare that this is the longest period of paralysis terminating in recovery known to surgical science. Notwithstanding his handicap, Birge, who has been able to move about on a wheel chair, has superintended his 60-acre farm in Vermont and had supported himself and family.

In our advertisements published in this newspaper on the following dates, April 28th, May 5, May 8th, May 16th and May 19th of this year, we advertised sales on coats and wraps and among other materials were included the names of "Gerona," "Marvella," "Veldyne" and "Orlando"; the prices advertised were $25.00, $19.00 and $17.00 respectively.

The mention of these materials in connection with these advertisements was a mistake. These materials were not included in the garments on sale at the prices advertised. Each of these materials is the exclusive product of Forstmann & Huffman Company of Passaic, New Jersey, and has been protected by duly registered trade-marks.

If our customers bought garments at any of the sales advertised, above mentioned, under the impression that they were made of any of these materials and wish to return them with the purchase slip, we stand ready to make amends by refunding the money.

With apologies to the Forstmann & Huffman Co., for the unauthorized use of their trade names, we wish to express our regrets for any annoyance that may have been caused.

CITY PLANNING

Recently a planning board was appointed for Lowell, but judging from the comments very generally made at the time, it would seem that the general public takes this matter of a planning board as a joke. It remains, therefore, for the members of the board to prove that it is a real live entity, capable of directing the city's progress along the most practical lines in building up a bigger and more beautiful Lowell. For this purpose it will be necessary to adopt some general plan of progressive public improvements, the completion of which might require a long period of years.

Undoubtedly the members of this board will ask themselves what they are expected to do or what they can do to promote public improvements. Unfortunately the recommendations of the planning board that formerly existed here, were very generally ignored and if the present board is similarly treated, it might as well resign at once, rather than waste time in studying improvements and making recommendations that the city government will never try to carry into effect. To the ordinary citizen acquainted with local conditions, however, there are certain improvements that must come in the natural course of events, unless our city is to go backward instead of keeping abreast of the times in the march of municipal progress. First of all, then, it should be understood that a generous share of our municipal expenditures should be devoted to the improvement of our public streets and thoroughfares. That appears to be a most pressing necessity at the present time. After this will come the question of providing public parking space for automobiles in the downtown district in order to relieve the congestion that is blocking traffic and obstructing business in our busiest thoroughfares. In this connection, it may be mentioned that there must eventually be some street constructed parallel to lower Central street. Many years ago, it was proposed to extend Palmer street to Middlesex; and that problem may be revived by the planning board in order to relieve the congestion of traffic on Central street. As an alternative proposition or rather supplementary, it will be necessary in the future to widen Davidson street and extend it to Anderson. These are among the more important street projects that will come up in the near future. There will also be bridge questions as already a bridge is needed across the Concord river at South Lowell and another will be called for across the Merrimack above Pawtucket Falls. There is also great need of a bridge across Beaver Brook at Rosemont terrace.

If the more important of these projects were carried through, it would be advisable to have Patrick Street extended to North Chelmsford, annexed to Lowell in order to afford the city an outlet for healthy growth. At the present time, there is congestion in the business districts that might be overcome through annexation. Besides, thousands of people work in the factories of Lowell who reside in the neighboring towns so that they do not even pay a poll tax in Lowell. If we are to keep pace with Cambridge, Fall River and New Bedford, we must annex additional territory; and there is reason to believe that if our city government be conducted on business principles and the tax rate kept moderately low, some of the surrounding towns would not object to being added, at least in part, to our city.

We offer these few suggestions to our planning board with the hope that some of them will be brought forward and pressed upon the attention of the city government as among the more essential steps toward a bigger, better and more beautiful Lowell.

A CONVENTION CITY

It may be some years yet before we can confidently and correctly call Lowell a "convention city," but we have no doubt the effort to make the Lowell City a municipality worth visiting at all times, particularly by great organizations meeting in annual conventions, will not lack of ready support.

Manchester, N. H., has just started a campaign with "Manchester a Convention City in 1923" as its slogan. The effort is sponsored and largely backed up by all members of the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club, the chamber of commerce and other Manchester organizations of a similar nature having to do with the business and social welfare of the "Manchester city." Already several national organizations of business men, and only the National Association of United Commercial Travelers, have decided upon Manchester as the place for their 1923 convention. Hotels and merchants are assisting in the convention city movement, and in 1923, it is predicted, Manchester will have more conventions than ever before in her entire history.

The movement can be copied by other New England cities, including Lowell, with the same favor. There are, of course, rather inadequate hotel accommodations in this city for large gatherings of civic or commercial bodies, but Lowell can take care of pretty good-sized crowds at it is, and the campaign just started in Manchester, which has no extraordinary hotels to boast of any more than Lowell shows what two organizations can do for their city. The dedication of our magnificent Memorial Auditorium should give Lowell a wide reputation around the convention cities of the country.

UNIFORM SIGNS

The authorities controlling our city and town highways should adopt uniform signs on all main highways. The sooner this work is done the better it will be for motorists and hence for pedestrians. No two communities, as a matter of fact, employ the same highway signs, and while riding from one city or town to another, operators of cars are kept busy guessing what they are going to find at the next cross roads. Uniformity of signals by competent traffic officers all over the state is the rule now, except in some of the remote rural districts where the word of mouth is depended upon rather than the machine. Uniform roadway signs all over the state would materially aid transportation matters. But in every case the signs should be clearly legible and not, as in numerous instances, the battered targets of small boys in their stone-throwing practice.

SAFETY IN TRAVEL

The electric street car lines of America's leading cities are actually impressive in transportation circles when the safety of human life is concerned. Some twenty years ago many serious accidents on street railways were reported. Today this mode of travel is about the safest we have, according to figures just compiled by the National Safety council. During the past five years street car fatalities have gradually decreased, while automobile, truck and bus accidents have been rapidly increasing. Safety education and development of traffic laws are responsible for the sudden drop in the last two years. With the death toll from automobiles hovering around 3000 annually this safety problem becomes one of very vital importance.

UKULELE

Manuel Nunes, inventor of the ukulele, dies in Honolulu. He built the first ukulele out of a cigar box in 1879.

The ukulele music, played by native Hawaiians, later swept our country as a craze, made popular by "The Bird of Paradise." This music is a dash of old-time camp-meeting songs taken across the Pacific by missionaries.

Nunes was a powerful man. His invention swayed the emotions of millions. It seems too bad that we can't get common-sense to music. Maybe we could. No one ever tried it. With common sense in racket form, even statistics would be interesting.

RUSSIAN REDS

Trotzky, the erstwhile fire eater, cuts the Russian standing army to 250,000 troops. He says he has five times that many trained reserves, but they are at work in the harvest fields. Like all idealists, Trotzky has found that the stomach is man's real ruler. When it is empty, the owner is not interested in anything else, not even in theoretical economics.

It may not be so easy to get the harvest forces back into the army. A wholesale private soldier is paid an average of $500.000 rubles a month, but that is only around $150 in our money.

ANCIENT DRESS

Clothes that were worn by men 700 years ago are dug up in an ancient Greenland cemetery by Nordlund, Danish scientist. They are the only specimens of their kind in existence.

Put on one of these costumes and you would look as if you had gotten up in a hurry and dragged the sheet with you. The long strips of cloth draped the wearer loosely. This is one style that will never return. Fancy such an outfit getting caught while cracking a flivver. But the Esquimaux of today wears clothing that would look equally clumsy to people of this climate.

MUNICIPAL MOVIES

Several Norwegian movies have taken over their movie theatres and run them as municipal enterprises, like markets and water. Christiansia is making $30,000 a year profit in this line.

This is getting back to the ancient Greek idea of the theatre endorsed by the state. We shall probably have the same thing in America very soon, particularly for educational purposes. And if, as will soon come to pass, the pictures talk right out to the audience, the question of censorship may come up with increased emphasis to prevent some indignant person in the audience from getting up and calling the movie speaker a liar.

MARS

If Mars is inhabited, the best time to find it out will be in August, 1924. The red planet will then be closer to us than for another 500 years.

Prof. David Todd, celebrated astronomer, doubts that it is physically possible to communicate with Mars by wireless. But he is preparing to make motion pictures of it in 1924.

Good results eventually will come from this exploration in the sky. Man already knows more about Mars, at a whole, than he knew about the earth when Columbus set sail for America.

On the democratic side, the committee seeking the nomination for governor have not yet taken the stump, but they are all working quietly to strengthen themselves with the voters. John P. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston, ex-Governor Foss, Mayor Sullivan of Worcester and Joseph Ely of Westfield are the candidates in the group. Sullivan and Ely are new men with whom the voters will have to get better acquainted.

The fight for district attorney promises to be a lively one regardless of who may get the republican nomination. With James C. Kelly, Esq., the nominee on the democratic ticket, the republican candidate will have a real battle on his hands.

Perhaps nothing in this campaign has been quite so impressive as the children with which the candidacy of Attorney General J. Weston Allen for governor, has been received by republicans.

BUSINESS HOLDING UP

Strikes Expected to Be Settled Before Serious Results Are Felt

NEW-YORK, Aug. 7. (By the Associated Press.)—While the strikes have exerted an increasing effect on industrial activity during the past week and while foreign developments have been somewhat unsettling, the undertone in the country's chief markets has remained cheerful. Security prices have held up well and the view still prevails that the strikes will be settled before the business revival has been seriously crippled.

With the railroads refusing the president's proposal for a restoration of full seniority in the striking shopmen, financial quarters are now focusing their attention on coal production figures and railroad traffic statistics.

Taking the latest available figures, those for the week ended July 22, the movement of freight, exclusive of coal, remains remarkably good. Total loadings of $31,000 cars showed a slight improvement over the previous week and were within 10,000 cars of the high record for the year. Exclusive of coal, the loadings were the highest in history for this season of the year.

Coal production appears to be recovering but slowly from the low level of three weeks ago. Continuing the slight gain previously recorded, the past week started with a further betterment. Although the complete figures for the week are not yet available, it would appear from the output that it has risen very materially above the $300,000 ton level. Much depends therefore on the success of the measures now being taken to reduce consumption on the coal carrying roads.

Crop prospects show little change. The government's cotton crop estimate as of July 25, which was made public on Tuesday, showed an increase in anticipated yield of $31,000 bales, the crop being placed at 21,499,000 bales. Nevertheless the trade has expected the estimate to be some 250,000 bales larger than actually turned out to be the case. A sharp rally in prices occurred but the gains were lost before the week closed. Grain prices continued to drag and traders expect tomorrow's government estimate to record a slight increase in the yield of wheat.

Prosperity Returning

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—While the "retarding effect of labor difficulties on industry" is said to be shown in department of commerce figures, early signs of recovery for the month of June, these disturbances do not seem to have affected the deeper undercurrent of returning prosperity, said the statement issued today.

Production in many industries has been slowed down by the "retarding effect of labor difficulties," the statement added, "but there is a general feeling that early settlement will be reached and that business will continue to gain in volume." The department's wholesale price index showed an advance of 150 points for the month of June, compared with 112 a year ago, practically all commodities showing the advance although slight declines in farm products and general commodities were noted. The bureau of labor statistics gave the figure for the quarter "showed no substantial change."

BUY PROVISION AND GROCERY STORE

Asst. E. Gibson and Leo Gerow have bought the provision and grocery store, formerly occupied by William Patten, at 15 Gorham street. This is said to be the oldest market in Lowell, having been a provision store for the last 61 years. Both men are well known to the people of this city and suburbs. Mr. Gibson was a general manager for the past six years with the Boston market. Previous to that time he was with the late John P. Saunders, who conducted the market of the same name on Gorham street, and thus has had years of experience in buying and selling. The new proprietors have had much experience in the market business. After spending some time with his father, David Gibson, on Chelmsford street, he entered the employ of Mr. Patten, with whom he stayed for seven years, and in the past three years or more has been with the Boston market. The new proprietors expect to open for business soon and at the present time workmen, painters, etc., are busy engaged in renovating the store throughout.

ORPHANAGE OUTING AT CANOBIE LAKE

Arrangements are practically completed for the big outing to be given the children of St. Peter's orphanage at Canobie Lake on Wednesday. Members of the League of Catholic women will take charge of the children for the day, giving the children of the orphanage a real holiday. The children will leave the orphanage on Stevens street in special cars at 9 o'clock. There will be a picnic and ride directly to the park. There games and other features will be carried out and dinner served. In the afternoon all the features of the park will be enjoyed and before the departure for home luncheon will be served. The return trip will be made at 5 o'clock. Thanks for the outing will be received at the orphanage today and tomorrow.

WOMAN CHARGES HER GARTER STOLEN

Boston, August 7.—Charging that she was robbed of her garter, a well-dressed young woman, who gave the name of Mrs. Amy Kelley, and her address as New York city, was brought to the first Boston hotel tonight yesterday morning. In a hysterical condition she said she was on the Boston station of the New York and New England road and that she asked a young man to get her an automobile to take her to the South station. As she walked along, she noticed a crowd of her acquaintances came along and they attempted to attack her and one of them threw her garter. She was unable to get assistance and people living in the vicinity went to her aid. They later had her removed to the hospital.

Irregulars Frustrated by Fere Staters

DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Republican forces from the southern battle zone attempted a coup in the Dublin area Saturday night, but were frustrated by the Free State troops, according to an official communique issued from army headquarters today. The irregulars traveled by boat from Cork to Liverpool, and thence here, intending to isolate the city by destroying the bridges, roads, railways and other means of communication. The Free State forces captured 180 of the attackers and a large quantity of arms and other war materials.

Miss Jones was with her father, who made a frantic effort to save her and narrowly escaped her fate.

Common Return to Work at Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Chicago workers today found normal transportation restored after a six day strike on surface and elevated lines. Curmen who went on strike last Monday, accepted a wage reduction of 10 cents an hour, approximately 12½ per cent and retained the eight hour day and former working conditions in an agreement ratified late yesterday. The company had directed a wage reduction of approximately 17 per cent.

Salem Man Killed on R. R. Crossing

SALEM, Aug. 7.—Orrin F. Thompson, 35, of 9 Warren street, was struck and killed by the 7:12 train to Boston this morning, when he attempted to cross the tracks at the depot in front of the train. He was practically instantly killed, dying after being placed in the ambulance. He lived alone, his nearest relative being Orrin C. Symonds of Danvers, a nephew.

No Change in Lawrence Strike Situation

LAWRENCE, Aug. 7.—The 20th week of the Lawrence textile strike opened this morning with practically no change in the situation. In spite of the vote of the One Big Union Saturday to violate the order of the court and picket the Pacific mills in large numbers, the picket line at the Upper and Lower Pacific and the Pacific Print Works was very small. People at the mill gates said that very few went to work in the mills.

PLANE WRECKED, FLIER UNINJURED

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 7.—A soft spot in the sand of Pablo Beach here brought about the crash of a biplane today. The pilot, J. S. Donnelly, attempted to land on the beach, but the plane struck a sand dune and was wrecked. The pilot was uninjured. The plane was a 1921 model and was being used for a 2000 mile trip. The specially equipped plane did not get into the air at all. It swerved from its course above the beach at the getaway, nose dived into a roller and stopped with a bang and the propeller wrecked.

The flyer was uninjured. Just how badly injured the plane was had not been determined early today.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem THE OLD GRIND

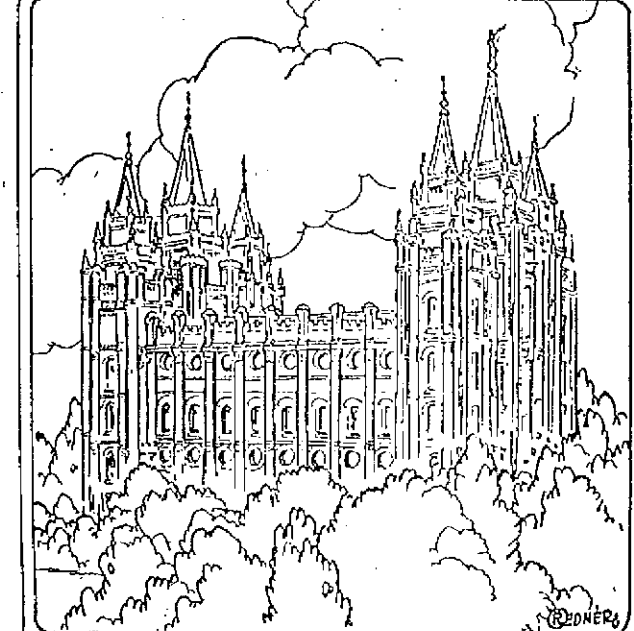

(Unemployment Decreasing—News Headline)
Praise be, I am working again;
It ain't such a much of a job,
But take it from me, it's a pleasure to be
A part of the laborin' mob,
When I have been loafin' so long
(I know just how long it has been).
Now the kids can have shoes, and I'll say it's good news
To tell you I'm workin' again.

It may be a picnic to loaf,
When you have a wad that is swell,
But when you go broke and your clothes are in soak,
It ain't any picnic—it's hell!
And when all you know is your job,
And nobody wants any men—
You'll see why I say, with a Hip-Flip hooray,
"I'm workin', I'm workin' again!"

The wife's worn one dress for a year,
And how we were fed I don't know;
There's litterachoor on the Ways of the Poor,
But there's lots of things it don't show.
Now I've got a pay check once more!
Of all the glad words, tongue or pen
Have said or have wrote, these are gettin' my vote,
"Oh, boy, I am workin' again!"

Turned Down Millions to Wed Hungarian Nobleman

COUNT AND COUNTESS ZICHY

By ALEXANDER HERMAN
ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 7.—Love finds the way out of all difficulty. That's what Countess Zichy says. And she should know—for she, the former Charlotte Demarest, gave up position, family, wealth, on the eve of her marriage to a millionaire just to elope with a young Hungarian nobleman—famous, but penniless!

That was more than two months ago.

"It was pretty hard going—at first," says the countess in her apartment at one of the beach hotels here. "Sheriffs came and bombarded us with judgments."

"It was pretty hard to give up a beautiful home in New York's exclusive society district and go to live in a one-room suite at a small hotel."

"It was pretty hard getting started making a living—"

"But now the going's easy and we're the happiest couple in all the world."

A. O. H. WOULD CRUSH KU KLUX BIGOTRY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 7.—Resolutions deploring the situation in Ireland and opposing the Ku Klux Klan were adopted by the national board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in annual conference yesterday.

The attitude of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in America is the "happy division of the Irish people," said the Irish resolution, "should be expressed in sentiments of solicitude and hope for an early cessation of the strife, and that we refrain from obstructing our opinions or criticisms from the harsh discord he transmitted to our side of the ocean, although we are confident a stable government resting upon the will of the majority must eventually rule, and that violent rejection of the popular will is alike incompatible with prosperity at home or respect abroad."

The resolution dealing with the Ku Klux Klan reads: "The Ku Klux Klan challenge to our Catholic citizenship should be opposed by aggressive, intellectual power. The bigotry of these secret political societies is designed to drive us from the rights guaranteed by the America we helped to found and build. This malevolence is born of ignorance, and aims at the destruction of American institutions."

All the laws of truth and justice are on our side. But we repeat, we must organize and get all our Irish-American Catholics into our ranks—array our people under the banner of the ancient faith of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and appeal to that tribune which has never failed to decide a right, the tribune which reigns in the hearts of the sensible and moral multitude which has made America great."

John O'Day of Philadelphia was chairman of both these committees, and others composing them were Michael Delaney, Chicago, and Patrick Keane, Montreal, Canada.

TURKISH REFUGEES MAY BE CALLED HOME

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 7.—The decreasing birth rate in Turkey, and the gaps in the population brought about by the war, are causing serious alarm. In some villages, it is said, there have been virtually no children for several years.

As a remedy it has been proposed to bring back to the home land some of the thousands of refugees who are now in Russia and the Balkans. The transfer of a few thousand Moslems into Anatolia from Russia, it is argued, would be extremely useful to Turkey, and Russia would never miss them.

C. M. A. C. DEFEATS LAWRENCE K. OF C., 11 TO 3

Down River Twilight League Leaders No Match For Fast Local Team—Peterson Twirls Classy Game—Tyler Turns in Fine Exhibition at Bat—Higgins of Visitors Stars in Field

Two thousand baseball fans turned out at the Textile campus last Saturday afternoon with the expectation of witnessing one of the best games of the season, but they were doomed to disappointment when an apparently good ball game terminated in a slaughter, the C. M. A. C. of this city overwhelming the Lawrence K. of C. by the score of 11 to 3. More significant is it when it is taken into consideration that the latter aggregation is at present leading the Twilight league in the down-river city, but this fact only served as an added impetus to the local stars, who changed Maloney and Pomerleau at will.

On the other hand, Peterson, on the mound for the C. M. A. C., proved seriously threatened after the third inning when the "Caseys" scored their three runs.

For three innings both sides were tied in one, two, three order. A feat worthy of honorable mention was pulled off in the second inning when Higgins of the visitors claiming the laurels. This feat center fielder made a spectacular catch in this frame of mind, hard hit ball of Hubert's. Hubert's would surely have gone for extra bases had not Higgins' spearhead it on the run. Gleason, on the other hand, also contributed some catches to the afternoon's program. Freely had six putouts in his territory, all told, some of them of a very difficult nature.

The scoring started in the third. Higgins drew a free ticket for an opener and Peterson, who was tough, going to third. Delaney then stole second and both scored on Smith's single to right. The next two innings were a bit too tame, Higgins going out and both scored on Smith's single to right. Higgins then stole second and both scored on Smith's single to right. Higgins then stole second and both scored on Smith's single to right.

The C. M. A. C. came back strong in the fourth and made home runs even by sending three runners across home plate. Higgins then stole second and both scored on Smith's single to right. Higgins then stole second and both scored on Smith's single to right.

The C. M. A. C. total in the sixth. Hubert was passed, stole second and scored on Maloney's hit. The following inning approached the baroque when the

CENTRALVILLES DROP YANKEES IN SLUGGING BEE

Split Even in Saturday Double-Header and Lose First Place in Standing

The Centralvilles won and lost at Spaulding park Saturday afternoon, in a Twilight league double-header, before a crowd that numbered approximately 1500. The even split knocked the Centralvilles out of first place, which is now held by the Highland Daylights, by the slender margin of half a game.

The first game was a victory for the Yankees over the Y.M.C.I. by a score of 11 to 6. The K. of C. turned the tables in the second ending, 6 to 0.

Sammy Poult, who was in fine form in the get-away contest, especially with scores threatening and earned the victory, but when he attempted to stay in and play the second game, he was hit by a line drive from the Yankees' pitcher, and he was out.

Joe Bush, who was in fine form in the get-away contest, especially with scores threatening and earned the victory, but when he attempted to stay in and play the second game, he was hit by a line drive from the Yankees' pitcher, and he was out.

ENGLISH SWIMMING STAR TO COMPETE

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Miss Hilda James, English swimming star, was on her way west today to compete in a series of aquatic events at the world's championship, which will be held at the last three days of the week at Indianapolis.

Miss James, who set a new world's mark for 300 metres and broke the American record for 200 yards in a race here Saturday, announced she would make her final appearance before leaving for England later today in a special exhibition at Brighton beach. Her opponent will be Gertrude Ederle, winner of the recent long distance champion race, Helen Wainwright, holder of several world's records, and Miss Ellen Riekin, Olympic diving champion.

WHITE TO BOX BOBBY BARRETT

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Charley White of Chicago, and Bobby Barrett of Philadelphia, will meet tonight in a 15-round contest at the New York Velodrome.

It had been announced that the winner would be matched with Benj. Leonard, lightweight champion, but the titleholder's manager declared in Chicago last night that he would not box again until after his return to Europe from a European tour. White has posted a forfeit with the New York state athletic commission, binding a challenge to Leonard.

MAY FORM STATE-WIDE TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Plans for forming a state-wide organization of twilight baseball teams, with leagues in various sections of the state and with post-season series to determine the state championship, are now being carried out by the active supporters of twilight baseball.

The Boston Twilight Baseball league is interested in the project. Its officers believe that the public interest shown this year in the games of the Boston league as well as the twilight games throughout the state, is sufficient to assure success for a state-wide organization.

Claude L. Davidson, president of the Boston Twilight Baseball league and former second baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, declared today that "such an organization is not only possible, but it is necessary to raise the standard of the game and to establish it on a permanent and efficient basis, but would make it possible for greater numbers of people to take part in baseball games and to watch them."

As a first step towards uniting the twilight baseball players, President Davidson is issuing a call to the officers of all amateur and semi-professional twilight teams and leagues to meet in his care at the Boston Twilight Baseball league, Quincy house, Boston, the names of the leagues, clubs and teams and the names and addresses of the officers and managers.

"We hope," he said, "that twilight baseball teams in all parts of the state will furnish the information as soon as possible, in order that we may begin the work of organization. Once the association is organized we plan to divide the state into sections and form one principal or 'major' league in each section. Play-offs among the leaders of the different leagues could be held at the end of the season. It might also be possible to group teams according to their strength and form minor leagues. Such an association would promote also the teams organized in factories, stores, banks, etc."

SARAZEN A WORTHY GOLF CHAMPION

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Gene Sarazen of Pittsburgh has stamped himself as a worthy holder of the American open golf championship as a result of victories in two successive days over three of the game's leading stars.

Gene Sarazen, a former champion, defeated Walter Hagen, British open champion and Joe Kirkwood, Australian crack.

The diminutive Pittsburgher vanquished Hagen in a 36-hole test over the links of the Homestead Country club, Spring Lake, Pa., and yesterday with Tommy Armour as partner, gave Hagen and Kirkwood the first of their defeats. The margin was 3 up and 2 to play in 36 holes over the Westchester-Biltmore course at Rye, N. Y.

Hagen, given a little support by Kirkwood, practically carried the brunt of the match, but was unable to hold the lead in the final play of Sarazen and the Scotch star. Hagen's first round card of 61, the best of the day, constituted his side's best ball, one of the most performances of the season when Kirkwood's calibre is considered.

LEONARD GOT $20,000 FOR BEATING HAMMER

MICHIGAN CITY, Aug. 7.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, won a new world record for New York yesterday with $20,000 in his pockets and with a new dental bill to pay as a result of his 10-round championship match with Harry Hammer, the Chicago lightweight, in Floyd Fitzsimmons' arena here Saturday. Leonard gave Hammer a boxing lesson and won a well earned decision.

The champion was suffering from a bruised and split chin as a result of having another tooth loosened in the front of his mouth in a fight with Murphy's carnival shows, left today for Barnstable to join Albery R. 102d Field Artillery, of which he is wrestling instructor. While on the road he says he won every fight he took part in. He informs us that he defeated Lurich, Moran, Voliano, Jenks, McCarthy and Young Lewis. Upon his return to the ring he intends to meet westling bouts in North Hillieria.

GOES TO JOIN BATTERY

"Bob" Johnson, the local wrestler, who returned home last week, after a most successful tour with the M. J. Murphy's carnival shows, left today for Barnstable to join Albery R. 102d Field Artillery, of which he is wrestling instructor. While on the road he says he won every fight he took part in. He informs us that he defeated Lurich, Moran, Voliano, Jenks, McCarthy and Young Lewis. Upon his return to the ring he intends to meet westling bouts in North Hillieria.

Pepper Martin on Way to Ring Title

"PEPPER" MARTIN—LOGICAL CONTENDER FOR FEATHER-WEIGHT CROWN.

"Pepper" Martin of Brooklyn has a great chance to be the next featherweight champion of the world.

Martin is a Bostonian. For a time he boxed prizefights in Boston and did very well. Leaving Boston he sought new fields to conquer.

Naturally he went to New York to seek pugilistic fame. However, for some reason, known only to Martin, he signs the hotel register from Brooklyn.

Recently I watched Martin go against Gene Delmont in a 10-round bout at the arena in Boston. It was the first time I had ever seen the challenger of Kilbane in action.

Martin won from Delmont, but not by a very wide margin. Delmont carried the fight to him and was always dangerous.

However, Martin demonstrated that he is a fast, strong youngster who can handle the best of the featherweights. He has from four to six matches every month. He is shooting at a chance with Kilbane.

"I am going to write Johnny about this fellow Martin. He will have to be right to beat him."

Martin is fighting his way to the top. He has from four to six matches every month. He is shooting at a chance with Kilbane.

GOLF PLAYED OVER WEEK END

All three local golf clubs played off scheduled competitions over the weekend.

At Longmeadow, low gross went to J. J. Ward, with two 38s for a score of 73, while Fred J. Novary scored an 88 which, with his 18 handicap gave him a net total of 65. Looks as if this man was due for a handicap slice.

The final qualifying round for the president's cup was played at Pleasant, with C. Marshall Forrest turning in the best gross score of 87. C. B. Mills and Charles Grasse, Jr., were tied for second place at 88.

Club cup competition at the Vesper club, found "Bill" Rilly with the low gross and H. E. Stratton with the best net scores.

Mrs. Kiers Attempts Suicide After Taking Last Look at Bier of Husband

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—With a long heartrending look at the bier of her husband, Mrs. Ada Kiers turned, ran to a window in the rear of her apartment in Brooklyn and cast herself out into the street.

Mrs. Kiers had been constantly by the side of her husband's body since his death and had knelt for an hour at a time beside the casket. Relatives seeing the furor in her nervousness, had been watching but were unable to prevent her act.

The funeral services for her husband were held shortly after Mrs. Kiers was removed unconscious from a fractured skull.

tickets. The Social club in Moody street.

The new precinct in Ward 2, to be known as Precinct 5, will have its booth at the West Street school.

The election commissioners have made a number of changes in the location of other booths throughout the city, but because of uncertainty concerning one or two of them, will not announce them for a day or two, until all are definitely decided upon.

Public Service Board

When the board of public service meets tomorrow, for the approval of July bills, it will have for its further consideration bills totalling $12,519.64, presented by the Packard Motor Car Co., for two 5-ton trucks, now in use by the street department.

The bills have occasioned more or less discussion at meetings of the council and board of audit commission and a hearing on them was held in connection with the meeting of the first named body last Thursday night.

They still stand unapproved, but may pass muster tomorrow, before the board that first must approve them.

At tomorrow's meeting, also, bids will be opened by repair of slabs on Central bridge.

Municipal Movies

The program of pictures for the "municipal movies" to be given on four parks this week by the park commission includes "When Red in 'Too Much Speed'" and "Don't Weaken," a Mack Sennett comedy.

The program will be given on Monday evening at the South common, Tuesday evening at the North common, Wednesday evening at Washington park and Thursday evening at Alken street playground, in each case, weather permitting.

City Health Camp

Today began the last week of the city health camp, or preventorium, being operated on land off West Meadow road by the department of school hygiene, Dr. Francis A. Finnegan, director. Some particular program is planned for next Saturday, when it is possible that the boys who attended the camp for the first fortnight, will be invited to share in the fun with the girls now there.

It will pay you to get The Sun classified adv. habit.

AMAZING TRIANGLE

Miss Bertha Katz, 28 (above), was shot dead in a Brooklyn apartment. Mrs. Kiers (below), her sister, told police she had killed the girl because the latter had stolen the affections of her husband, "John the Barber" Reiser, prize fight promoter.

FURTHER ADVANCES FOR FREE STATERS

DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The national army troops are successfully pushing their campaign in southwestern Ireland both from the Limerick sector and from the region of Tralee, where they landed last week in a turning movement, according to reports from the fighting front.

The flanking parties from the coast are pushing inland, and the fall of Listowel Saturday was a result. The irregulars retreated thence in a southerly direction to Abbeyfeale, County Limerick. Before leaving Listowel they burned the barracks, the workhouse and the courthouse.

In the Limerick area, the fall of Kilmallock, Adair and several other places held by the irregulars seemed to have put them to rout in both east and west Limerick. Adair was taken after a few shells had hit their headquarters in a local hotel. The Free State troops had one killed and three wounded.

After further fighting on Sunday, the nationalists still advancing, took Rathkeale, Broadford, Askeaton and Ballygunnary.

HANDKERCHIEF LINEN IN VOGUE

Handkerchief linen, and especially pink handkerchief linen, is having a sudden vogue for midsummer wear. It is sheer and cool and lends itself to many different styles. White handkerchief linen embroidered in ecolog is also very much liked.

Faded prints are another of the season's fancies—these are Indian designs.

printed on either linen or cotton and bought by the yard or they may be a genuine Indian print that was large enough to make a blouse or slip-on frock.

Pale gray and beige are the most popular shades for silk frocks during these hot days and they are shown in crepe, Romaine, Canton crepe and crepe de chine.

Georgette is also seen, especially in models like that illustrated with long, narrow tucks or pleats to accentuate the straight-lined style.

Pitched Ten No-Hit, No-Run Games

SERGEANT JOE DUFF

By BOB DORMAN
FORT BENNING, Ga., Aug. 7.—"Oh, him," says Sergeant Joe Duff, "what's a no-hit game or so?"

Sergeant Duff's record shows he has pitched 10 no-hit, no-run games during the course of a pitching career that extends over 25 years.

His last record-breaking pitching feat was performed recently when he was 52 years old.

He is the star pitcher of the infantry school detachment (white) team, commanded by Captain Samuel L. Barker, stationed at Fort Benning, and since he joined the team three years ago the record shows 15 games won and 15 lost. They have won the army pennant three years.

Duff has piled up a pitching record in the army that anyone might be proud of.

He has won 430 games and lost 43, included by that is two seasons with the Cotton States league, when he won on furlough in 1902 and 1903.

Sergeant Duff believes the wholesome outdoor life and exercises of the army have enabled him to retain the youthful vigor that the average man loses much earlier in civilian life.

When asked when he would quit pitching, he answered: "When I leave the army, and my time isn't up for a long while yet."

Shoe Cutters Strike at Lynn

LYNN, Aug. 7.—About 150 cutters employed in shoe factories here quit work today declaring themselves dissatisfied with the wage adjustment recently made by the mayor's arbitration committee. The strike was unauthorized, it was said. The cutters claim that the adjustment lopped 40 per cent. off their wages. Representatives of the cutters went into conference with the arbitration committee, members of which expressed belief that the difficulty would be settled today.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Although the governor of Georgia refused recently to extradite a man wanted in Massachusetts, Assistant Attorney General Goldberg today advised Governor Cox to extradite William Mize, who is wanted in Atlanta, Ga., for larceny of an automobile.

Massachusetts Mill Strike

tions had been turned away from the mill today, but he claimed the reason for it was the lack of experienced help to operate the main departments thereby automatically crippling other departments which operated with common labor and so-called inexperienced help.

Fourth Week Starts
Today marks the fourth week of the strike of the Massachusetts and the 26th week of the local strike. It was just 26 weeks ago today that the strikers were declared out at the Hamilton and Day State mills.

The textile workers' strategy board met this morning and reported that the strikers all along the line were doing better than ever to win their points.

The board sent a committee to call on the mayor relative to "Rosebud day" which is to be held next Saturday. The money obtained from the sale of the buds will go toward the strikers' funds. This day is to be a day of the combined efforts of all the unions.

The mayor granted a permit for the day and also a permit for representatives of the unions to address the people on the streets during the day. It is planned to have dress groups in different sections of the city, especially during the last few hours of the drive, the addresses to be followed by the distribution of rosebuds.

Organizer Thomas J. Regan left this afternoon for Lawrence where he will be stationed for two days. Wednesday he intends to visit Ware to look after the interests of the strikers in that town.

Although the weather was not productive of a good crowd a fair sized audience turned out on the South common last night for the mass meeting. Sarah A. Conboy, secretary of the United Textile Workers of America, was the principal speaker. She told of the general strike situation throughout different parts of New England and expressed the belief that the strikers would eventually win and that their determination along these lines was growing every day. Other speakers included William Starr of Manchester, N. H., William E. Sprague of the Street Carriers' union, and John Hanley, president of the committee, who made a few remarks as a closing offer.

A meeting of all the presidents of all union crafts was held yesterday afternoon in Trades and Labor hall, and all of them pledged continued support to the textile strike. Another meeting of this body will be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at which time more definite plans will be made for "Rosebud Day."

President to Announce Plan

Continued

The White House was awaited today by a group of leaders representing the striking railroad shopmen who remained in the capital over Sunday with the exception that President Harding would carry further the conference of Saturday with a view to new negotiations for a strike settlement. Channels of communication between the administration and prominent railway heads are always open, despite refusal of the Railway Executive's association to accept Mr. Harding's previous suggestion as to restoration.

Two B. & M. Car Inspectors Attacked

WESTBORO, Aug. 7.—Two car inspectors of the Boston & Maine railroad, repairing a disabled car on a siding in the Cedar Swamp section here today, were attacked by 10 men who came out of the woods. Martin Hoban, one of the inspectors, received scalp wounds and bruises from stones that were thrown. The other inspector was not hurt. The assailants escaped.

Guards Armed With Repeating Shotguns

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 7.—Announcement was made today by Boston & Maine officials here that additions have been made to the yards of a Holyoke boiler plant that will enable it to do repair work on 20 locomotives at a time. Most of the engines thus far handled are said to have come from elsewhere than the Connecticut river division, which has its terminal here. Announcement also was made that some of the guards on duty at the local shops have been armed with repeating shotguns.

Storm Warnings Ordered Displayed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Advisory southwest storm warnings were ordered displayed at 10 a. m. today on the Atlantic coast at and north of Delaware Breakwater. The weather bureau reported a disturbance of considerable intensity over the Great Lakes, increasing in intensity and moving eastward. Strong south and southwest winds with squalls were forecast for this afternoon and tonight, shifting to west and northwest Tuesday.

Biddeford Plant to Close for Two Weeks

BIDDEFORD, Me., Aug. 7.—Notices were posted this morning that the plant of the Pepperell Manufacturing Co. will be closed from August 26 to Sept. 11. Similar notices have been posted by the York Manufacturing Co., also manufacturers of cotton goods. The shutdown is the annual fall vacation. Usually the closing is for one week. This year it will be for two weeks to give time for making extensive improvements to the water power system used by both plants. Six thousand hands are affected.

Concord Strikers Protest O. B. U. Meeting

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 7.—A committee from the federated shop crafts of this city, now on strike, presented a protest this morning to Mayor Henry E. Chamberlain against an advertised mass meeting of the "workers" council, Concord branch, in one of the city parks, for the purpose of forming "one big union" here. Mayor Chamberlain said he had received no notice of such an intended meeting but intimated that he would not allow it in a city park, in any case.

ALLIED PREMIERS' VIEWS ON REPARATIONS

LONDON, Aug. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Looking of the foundation for the important work of facing the allied governments in connection with German reparations and kindred problems was begun at a preliminary meeting of the principal representatives of these governments here today.

The conference began its sessions shortly after 11 o'clock, adjourning at 1.05 p.m., with the announcement that the conference would assemble at 4.30 p.m. No one aside from the delegates was admitted to the session. A statement from Sir Edward George, the British premier's private secretary, as to the course the proceedings had taken, was at first promised for the early afternoon, but later it was stated the announcement would not be forthcoming until evening.

SEN. WALSH ATTACKS DUTY ON HIDES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, who is to lead the democratic opposition to the duty on hides, which will be considered by the senate this week, declared in a statement last night that the effect of this duty would be the destruction of the 500 hide tanneries in the United States, and the extension of the packers' monopoly of the tanning industry.

PARIS PAPERS LAUD MISS M'CORMICK

PARIS, August 7. (By the Associated Press.)—The French newspapers are devoting much space to stories and pictures of Miss McCormick. She is called "the richest girl in the world" and there is much comment on her plain dress and modest deportment.

"She is not a spoiled child of fortune," says Le Journal, "she is not the familiar type of the American girl often presented in the movies. She is neither sporty nor athletic, nor ill-mannered and self-assertive. She is gentle, sentimental, old-fashioned. We used to love."

"She is brave enough to face poverty and live the man of her choice, no matter how humble. If she wants to live her own life and have her own dream of happiness, forget by the world, her wish should be respected. Let her go meet her prince charming in Switzerland and disappear forever as Mrs. Max Oser. Surely there would have been no objection if the union had she attempted to contract a vulgar marriage with some broken down prince."

Miss McCormick's stay in Paris, her father, Harold P. McCormick has shown her much affection, driving her about in public taxis, and the sight, with his arm around her. Whether he is reconciled to her marriage to Max Oser he has been unwilling to say. "I am sorry but the thing is done. I must be silent," he has declared.

Mr. McCormick appears to be willing to leave the decision with his daughter regarding her marriage. He has promised to let her meet Oser and then give her final answer.

KILL GERMAN CARP IN MERRIMACK RIVER

A 15 1/2 pound fish of the German Carp species surrendered unconditionally this morning in the waters of the Merrimack river, near the Moody at Merrimack, and now resting in place in a window of the Lowell Public Market.

The catch, which measures three feet in length, evidently essayed to swim over the falls but was trapped in the swirling rapids in the vicinity of the Moody street bridge. Two boys of about 15 years of age, spotted the monster and stoned him to death, despite faint expressions of "Kamur."

MAN 111 YEARS OLD DRIVES AUTOMOBILE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7.—Auguste Jeannone's ancient bones do not break as much as his liver does. He is 111 years old and he won the prize for the oldest person driving the motor in an automobile parade in Opelousas village.

He drove it himself, all the way from his farm in St. Landry parish and the driver looked older than he did.

Sitting beside him was his eldest son, Jean Baptiste Frusie, a youngster of 92.

They came to town to see the sights, and wound up by condemning flappers, prohibition, short skirts, cigarettes, bobbed hair and votes for women.

Jeannone's qualities as an expert, he has been married four times and is the father of 36 children—15 of them living—and grandfathers and great-grandfathers of more children than he can remember.

His daughter, what do you think of them, Pere Auguste? he was asked as a reward short-skirted girls eddled around the ancient machine.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Opening prices on the New York stock exchange were higher, but with relatively light dealings. Rails were again the favorites. Union Pacific leading this group with a gain of one point and one-half.

The market strengthened substantially on restricted trading during the first hour, but after noon, profit-taking set in. In Mexican Petroleum and Standard Oil, the early gains were largely wiped out. Slightly below their highest prices, a number of additional new high records for the year were made, however.

The first of these was made by Chicago and Northwestern, Peoria and Great Northern, California Packing, May Department Stores, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and International Harvester, which were up 1 to nearly 1 1/2 points. Exceptional strength was shown by Union Pacific, which rose 1 1/2 points, and the 7 to 8 points, respectively. Rails continued in good demand at gains of one to two points.

Speculative sentiment continued to lead toward the buying side although the bears staged a demonstration against tobacco, rubber and sugar which fell sharply. Goodrich declined 1 point to the lowest of the year. Meantime buying of high class railroad increased substantially. Illinois Central, Northern Pacific and Delaware Lackawanna and Western rising one to two points.

CHILD BEATER FATHER OF GIRL DENOUNCED

Father of Girl Denounced as "Most Contemplible Coward and Brute"

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Denounced as the "most contemplible coward and brute" the court had over seen, Harry McCauley was sentenced to six months for having beaten his 13-year-old daughter over the head and shoulders with a clothes line until he raised huge welts because she failed to do a task quickly enough. McCauley, who is built like a professional strong man, was told by the magistrate that he would like to make the sentence six years.

PLAYGROUND BADGE TEST POSTPONED

In order to allow more time for the playground tennis tournament, the badge test, which was to be held next week on the various grounds throughout the city, has been postponed to August 18.

This test has been formulated by the American Association of Playgrounds for the purpose of cataloging the physical condition of the children. Under this examination the children are put through a series of tests to ascertain their physical development.

Many children have been found through this examination by the instructors who are physically undeveloped. They will be gathered together by the various grounds and will be put through a special course of gymnastics that will give them the necessary development.

Preliminary tests will be held on the various grounds and the successful candidates will then be examined by the instructors. The children who pass this final examination will be presented a badge, emblematic of their athletic prowess.

The tests for the girls will be held at the Moody school for the Shedd park, Moody, and Grove street playgrounds. The tests will be conducted by Messrs. Messrs. Edward J. Martin, Arthur Lynch and William J. Ritten; at Allen street for the North common, Greenleaf, Allen, Varnum, and Lakeview avenue grounds under Messrs. John F. Brunker, Edward Gately and Edwin Markham; at Washington park for the Moody, Walker and Washington grounds under Messrs. Raymond Lison and Brandon McAdams.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN DEATH RATE

The city's birth rate for the first seven months of this year shows a slight falling-off from last year's figures, although only slight. So far in 1921, or up to August 1, a total of 1637 births have been reported to the board of health, with 171 deaths of infants under the age of one year for the same period of the last year.

In 1921, during a similar period, there were 1715 births and 176 deaths. The month of July this year, with 227 births and 27 deaths was up to normal, but the June total of 185 births was considerably below the average. In fact, it was the first month in a long time that the total has fallen below 200.

It is felt by Health Agent Francis J. O'Hare that parents are not reporting births in every instance. Unless this is done, 100 per cent, an accurate birth rate is impossible and again he stresses the importance of immediate registration of every child born.

INSPECTING FISH AND POTATOES

Mayor George H. Brown and his secretary, Joseph A. Cloutier, were at the Chelmsford Street hospital today, looking over fish and potatoes, with an idea of the formation of fish balls, but rather to determine whether orders of these two commodities were up to snuff in quality.

The mayor has ruled that 700-odd pounds of fish, known as tid-bits is hardly up to the standard and has ordered the consignments returned to a firm in Nashua that supplied it on bill.

The potato question will not be settled until a lot now on hand is carefully looked over and sorted, according to his Honor.

MATRIMONIAL

In a very pretty home wedding Miss Winifred Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Taylor, was last Thursday night married to James A. Purinton of Keene, N. H. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Kennedy of the First Presbyterian church, the double ring service being used. The bride wore a dress of white crepe meteor, with tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms and carried a showy bouquet of bride's roses and Scotch heather. The bridesmaid was Miss Blanche Marchionetto and the best man, Lester Merrill of Keene. After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Exeter.

MANCHESTER-DAWSON

The marriage of Mr. John J. Manchester and Mrs. Margaret W. Dawson took place Sunday afternoon at St. Peter's rectory. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Francis L. Shea. The couple were attended by Mrs. Alice M. Lindsay of Lowell and Mr. William F. Manchester of Boston. After an extended trip to the White Mountains the couple will reside at 900 Central street.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT PERSONS WHO "MIGHT" CONTRIBUTE $1000

Cattle Dealer and Butcher

Air Their Differences—

More Liquor Cases

Counter assault charges by Hyman Gass, a Pepperell cattle dealer and Israel Steinberg, a Howard street butcher, consumed the greater amount of time in district court this morning and after the lengthy trial, in which an amount of $7.92 was involved, Judge Enright found Gass guilty and imposed a fine of $15, which was appealed. Steinberg was discharged.

Maurice Carpenter, charged with drunkenness and the operation of a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition, was fined $76 on a plea of guilty. As Carpenter's home is in Warren, N. H., he was continued until Saturday to send home for the money, and in the interim will be confined in the house of correction.

George Kostabelis, who was placed under arrest last night by Patrolman William F. Lison after a hard scrimmage, appeared in court this morning and was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and discharging a weapon within the city limits. Disturbing the peace was an additional charge. He was dismissed on the last named charge, but was fined $15 on the others. He appealed.

The liquor cases were present in abundance as usual. Paul Keenan pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and was fined $100. George D. Glavin was continued until Wednesday, when he will answer a keeping charge. Alfred Maillet pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and was fined $100. The sum was beyond Maillet's expectations, perhaps, and he appealed, being held in $500 for superior court. Viola Maculski, for illegal sale, contributed $100. John McMahon paid $100 for illegal keeping.

Motor vehicle law violators were represented once more. Krika Kirkorian, on this charge, was continued until Thursday. Joseph E. Denis was granted a continuance of two days. The case of Maurice Carpenter, of Warren, N. H., detailed above, completed the list.

John Pappas, James Petros, John Chimes and Joseph Nasil, charged with being present at a game on the Lord's day, were permitted to pass out on payment of $5 each.

El Manistas, charged with non-support of his illegitimate child, was reported to the court to have married the child's mother and the case was dismissed.

J. McGovernick, Thomas J. Donohue and James O'Neill were the first drunken offenders, a record, perhaps, for Monday morning. McGovernick, charged with being drunk and sentenced to the state farm, was given another suspended sentence to Bridgeport, already under a suspended sentence to the state farm, will spend a month at the house of correction. McGovernick's suspension, to the farm with a year's suspension.

Tom Moore received several bruises about the head. Patricia Palmer received injuries to her back and possible internal injuries, and Viola Daniels was considerably bruised. All of the 25 in the party were badly shaken up.

The actors were waiting to start their rail journey to Los Angeles after spending six weeks in Jackson Hole on location.

and cannot be controlled by any one road or branch of the road. As soon as the strike is settled by the big chiefs the local men say they will be ready to resume work. As one of the men put it this morning, "If the question were purely a local one and could be settled as such, this strike would have ended about four weeks ago. The Boston & Maine would have settled then."

Up to noon no reports had been made by the pickets and matters were going along in the same peaceful manner as they have been since the local strike was declared.

It was reported at strike headquarters today that a small gang of men employed at the Hillier shops had left work when told that wages for certain work would be 60 cents an hour instead of 30 cents an hour as was claimed they were to receive.

Another report was made on four union carpenters who went to work in the Middlesex Village roundhouse Saturday, building a shack in which are to be installed toilets and shower baths. The men worked Saturday, but when informed that the structure was to be used for the convenience of strike breakers they did not return this morning.

A mass meeting was held in the hall this afternoon and was addressed by Robert Fechner, grand lodge representative for the Machinists. He is stationed at Boston. Chester Severna of Woburn, chairman of the assistant federation of the Boston & Maine, made a report on the meeting held in Chicago last Tuesday.

CAID OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many acts and kindnesses, words of sympathy and moral and spiritual bouquets received upon the death of our beloved son, Thomas P. Rafferty.
